This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

PREFACE.

DURING the first part of the year 1854 the writer began the researches of which the results are contained in this volume, and since that time they have been unremittingly prosecuted, so far as opportunity has permitted, although the interruptions have been serious. Early in the year 1870 his duties called him to the interior of South America, where he had intended remaining for about three years, but whence he did not permanently return until after the lapse of fifteen.

Before leaving home he prepared a condensed abstract of the information then acquired, and left it with the late Dr. Henry Wheatland of Salem, for publication in the "Historical Collections of the Essex Institute," at convenient opportunity. It was printed by instalments, and a very small edition of the whole was issued in 1872, as a pamphlet of 109 pages, bearing the title "The Ancestry and Posterity of Zaccheus Gould of Topsfield." The preamble to this pamphlet is here reprinted as containing a history of the inquiries up to that time, and a statement of the rules followed.

At the close of the year 1893 the printing of the present volume was begun, and early in the following July all had been completed except the Appendix.

During the past summer the family name of Phebe, the wife of Zaccheus Gould, was unexpectedly discovered, and consequently the error of the surmise regarding the "Grandfather Deacon," alluded to by the second John Gould, as mentioned on p. 26 of this volume. Phebe was a daughter of Thomas and Martha Deacon of the Corner Hall in Hemel Hempstead. A slab in the floor of the vaulted chamber of the church of that parish, marks the burial place of her unmarried brother, Thomas, Bachelor of Arts, whom it commemorates by a curious inscription.

While these lines are writing, information has been received of the death of Mr. John Hood Gould (No. 1595 in this record). To him, far more than to anyone else, has the writer been indebted for the collection of data concerning descendants of Zaccheus and Phebe Gould, especially in recent generations, and in distant parts of the country, where his pursuits led him for several years. His interest in the investigation was great and unceasing. For many years he was Town Clerk of the ancestral Topsfield, where he died 1895 Feb. 11, leaving an unblemished record of a useful life.

The will of Hugh Churchman, witnessed by Zaccheus Gould and apparently in his handwriting, as mentioned on p. 28, is given as a frontispiece to this volume.

At p. 46 is a similar reproduction of a bond given by Capt. John Gould in 1664, before his father's death, promising to pay £24 to each of the five daughters of his sister Priscilla (Wildes) upon their attaining the age of 21 years. Priscilla had died nearly fourteen months before, and Wildes was already married again to the unfortunate Sarah Averill. This bond is witnessed by John and Thomas Baker, brothers-in-law of John Gould. Upon the reverse of the same paper is a receipt by Timothy Day for the share of his wife Phebe (No. 32).

At the end of the volume is the map mentioned on p. 46, showing the land of Zaccheus situated within the limits of Topsfield. The property of Capt. John extended much further westward and northward, through and beyond the present township of Boxford. Indeed the land on which his son Samuel built his house was in Boxford, although his four brothers dwelt within the territory of Topsfield.

Cambridge, Mass., 1895 February.

PREAMBLE TO FIRST EDITION.

SINCE the year 1854, the writer has employed such intervals of leisure as he has found available, in the endeavors: — first, to trace back the lineage of his family, and secondly, to follow out the posterity of its earliest American member, ZACCHEUS GOULD, who appears to have sought the shores of New England between the years 1636 and 1638, and to have established himself finally in that part of Ipswich which was subsequently, and chiefly through his efforts, set off into a separate town under the name of Topsfield.

During these sixteen years, the town, church and county records of New England have been laboriously and extensively scrutinized, and such opportunities as have been found for obtaining information from special family records have been improved, until the results of the investigation, which at the beginning was prompted by personal curiosity alone, have attained a magnitude that confers upon them an interest of much wider range. Many members of this family, and of others bearing the same name, and not improbably affiliated with it by a common origin on the other side of the Atlantic, have contributed largely and most cordially to the stock of information gathered, and the family records have already acquired a fullness far surpassing that which had been anticipated. Through the laborious and assiduous efforts of my friend Mr. Somerby, the well known antiquarian, sundry unknown and long-forgotten records have been discovered at various places in England, which have developed the family pedigree for six generations previous to our first American ancestor, and have thus brought to light the relationship of some of the other American families of the name, at the same time that they have introduced a slight element of confusion, by showing the simultaneous presence in New England of two persons named Zaccheus Gould, uncle and nephew, — the latter dying unmarried at a comparatively early age.

A manuscript letter, written in the early part of the present century by Rev. Daniel Gould of Bethel, Me., and purporting to give an account of the family as compiled by himself from various traditions, and from documents which now seem to have disappeared, furnished the first clews for tracing the history of the family in America. Although many of the statements in this letter have proved to be incorrect, they have, none the less, guided to sources of information which would otherwise have been found only with great difficulty. Some of these clews were effectively followed up during the early stages of the inquiry by Mr. Thomas B. Wyman of Charlestown, who made a number of journeys in my behalf to various parts of the New England States, in order to examine early records and to find the present representatives of different branches of the family, for the purpose of collecting such information as the elder members might be able to supply from memory.

During the past few years, much additional information has been gathered by my kinsman, Mr. John H. Gould of Topsfield, whose avocations have carried him repeatedly to Western cities, where he has gleaned a rich harvest of facts regarding those descendants of Zaccheus of Topsfield, who, following the example of their honored ancestor, have sought and found new and thriving homes towards the setting sun.

Thus the mass of family memorials has gradually acquired dimensions which have of late suggested to me the duty of placing it upon record in some permanent form, and in such a manner as to be accessible to all those interested in the subject. A plan of this sort was already forming itself in my mind, when events occurred, in consequence of which I am now on my way to another hemisphere, with a view to a protracted absence from home. Several years must probably elapse before the contemplated work can be prepared and published. Meanwhile, in the natural course of human affairs it must be expected that many of the elders will be taken away, who can now give information which a few years would render unattainable. And should I myself not be permitted to return to my own land, there is no assurance that another would soon be found with opportunity and inclination to continue these inquiries and make public his results.

Influenced by these considerations, and being unable to find time for arranging in proper form all the materials hitherto collected, it has seemed best to prepare a condensed abstract of the family history, containing little excepting names, places and dates, and to offer this to my kindred throughout the land, as a germ or nucleus, from or around which a worthy family memorial may at some future time be developed. Many of the numerous gaps in this abstract can doubtless be filled out by some person now living. Even where dates and names cannot be supplied, some definite information as to place will often lead to the information needed; either by guiding to official records, by identifying known individuals, or by discriminating between different persons who bore the same name and were living at the same time. The amount of facts already gathered relative to persons in the United States, bearing the name of Gould, but not known to be descendants of Zaccheus, is quite large; and some fortunate, though slight discovery or identification may at any time transfer one or more entire families from these records into their true place in our genealogy. Furthermore, it is morally impossible that in so extensive a record as is comprised even in this present abstract, mistakes should not exist. I have endeavored to avoid these, so far as possible, by admitting no statement regarding any descendant of Zaccheus Gould, which is not authenticated by some official record, family Bible, or near kinsman of the person concerned. Nothing has been accepted as true because found in print, nor is any mere surmise, however plausible, presented as a fact. Indeed, there are few, if any, statements herein contained, for which the authority cannot easily be produced.

I therefore earnestly request every one who may be able to add to the information here presented, or to correct any errors which he may recognize, to communicate with Mr. John H. Gould of Topsfield, who has kindly undertaken to receive such communications, and to record the facts in proper form during my absence in South America, — which will probably continue for about three years.

The arrangement adopted requires little comment. The small superior figures appended to some names indicate the number of the generation from the first American ancestor. The marginal numbers are affixed for the sake of reference only, and are subsequently repeated at the head of those paragraphs in which the corresponding persons appear as parents of families. The limits prescribed for the present abstract, comprise such paragraphs or family groups for all fathers of families to the seventh generation of descendants from Zaccheus Gould, and similarly for all those mothers of families, who were born to the name of Gould. Wider limits than these would be incompatible with the plan of this present publication; but information is desired both regarding other descendants in the female line, and regarding later generations than the seventh.

The dates here given are intended to be in the Old or New Style, according to the usage at the time; so likewise, the months of January, February and part of March to be regarded as belonging to the preceding year until 1750, and to the following year after that epoch. But in many cases where confusion might arise from the ambiguity in numeration, the double dates are given.

Hoping that this contribution to the family history may not be deemed valueless by my kindred, now so widely distributed over the continent, I solicit from them the means of rendering the record more complete, and as much information as possible concerning the numerous individuals here mentioned, especially those who are not now living.

BENJAMIN APTHORP GOULD.

At sea, 1870 June 6.

LINEAGE OF ZACCHEUS GOULD.

THE earliest mention of the family name which I have found, is in the record, copied in Chauncy's Historical Antiquities of Hertfordshire, II, 476, giving to the vicar of Hemel Hempstead the nomination of curates for Bovingdon and Flaunden. This was in the year 1235; and Thomas Gould signs the document, apparently as a trustee of the church.

Thomas Golde was instituted rector of the church of Moulsoe in Buckinghamshire, 1375 Aug. 23, and died in 1409. This is five miles northward from Woburn, and twenty-three from Bovingdon.

Extensive and long-continued search has failed to identify with certainty any ancestor of Zaccheus Gould, earlier than Thomas, who died in 1520, and whose will is given below, together with the wills of his brothers John and William. These three also lived at Bovingdon, which is a small village of Hertfordshire, and still a chapelry in the parish of Hemel Hempstead, about 24 miles N.W. of London; and their descendants remained there, or in the immediate vicinity, long after many of their posterity had lived and died in New England. Branches of the family appear to have established themselves in Devonshire, Dorset and Somersetshire before the middle of the 17th century.

There were Goulds in Oxfordshire before 1580, but I have not succeeded in connecting them with the Hertfordshire family, which latter, however, had many representatives in Bucks, especially near the boundary between the two counties.

Several years of investigation had already brought to light many historical facts concerning the family, when in 1860 my friend, the late Horatio G. Somerby, discovered in the registry at Peterborough a collection of unindexed wills which had been proved in the court of the archdeaconry of Huntingdonshire, and among which were a large number of those of persons dying in Herts. These begin with 1470, and among them he found several which proved to be of value for our quest, besides those of the three brothers already mentioned.

The records of Bovingdon church, earlier than 1674, were destroyed by fire; and those of Great Missenden prior to 1678 are lost or destroyed also.

As regards the spelling of the family name, I find it as varied as was that of most surnames at the dates in question, and it is frequently different for the same person. The surnames of the three brothers, of the earliest generation recorded, were written differently in each case, manifestly according to the taste or fancy of the three priests who wrote the wills. The name was almost uniformly written in the same way by the same scribe. But since the middle of the 16th century the variations from the present spelling are rare.

In the genealogy here given, only the descendants of Thomas have been systematically followed out, and these not much further than is needful for showing the line of descent of Zaccheus Gould and his immediate kindred. Yet, since a knowledge of the families of the two brothers of Thomas may be of interest and of value in future researches, these are incorporated for the first two generations. There are indications that some of them came to New England.

61. JEREMY[6] GOULD, son of Richard of Bovingdon; born about 1581; married 1604 Nov. 27 at Chesham, Priscilla, daughter of William Grover of Codmore. Was assessed in 1623 for property in Halton and Weston Turville, co. Bucks. In the registry of his marriage he is called son of Richard Gould, late of Bovingdon.

He was in Rhode Island as early as 1638; on 1639 Jan. 28, was witness to will of Henry Russell, in which Zaccheus Gould was trustee; and in 1639 sold land in Weymouth to his brother Zaccheus.

Family tradition states that he went back to England, and returned in 1642 bringing his wife and three children, — Daniel aet. 16, Thomas and John. He settled in the part of the island which is now Middletown, where some of his descendants still live, and there his wife Priscilla died, later than 1655, and was buried on the farm. Soon afterward he returned to England where he died. He wrote to Job Lane (Geneal. Register xi, 104) 1854 June 6, that he intended to return to New England.

* Great and Little Missenden are in Buckinghamshire, 6 and 8 miles from Bovingdon, between Wendover and Amersham. Chesham is at about half that distance.

In another letter (ibid. xvii, 266) he speaks of his son Simon, then (1653) living in London.

The will of his wife Judith, made at Watford, Herts., 1650 May 6, proved Sept. 3, mentions the same children, excepting John, Joseph and Hannah.

Children:

91. JOHN, not 24 in 1633
92. JOSEPH
93. SARAH, of New England 1650, married, and had issue mentioned in mother's will
94. HANNAH, died between 1633 and 1650
95. MARY
96. ZACCHEUS, died in New England s.p.; administration to sister Elizabeth 1650 Sept. 12
97. NATHAN, b. 1614, of New England, children mentioned in his mother's will. He was of Salisbury (afterwards Amesbury, Mass.) in 1652 by his deposition (Essex Deeds 1682); d. 1692 Dec.
98. ABEL, bapt. King's Langley 1632 Aug. 8, coexecutor of mother's will
99. LYDIA, coexecutor of mother's will
100. ELIZABETH, had two daughters mentioned in mother's will; coexecutor of mother's will

All of these children except John were under 21 in 1633. One of the daughters m. George Young.

63. ZACCHEUS[6] GOULD, of Hemel Hempstead and later of Great Missenden, co. Bucks, where he was assessed in 1629. Born 1589 according to his own deposition; died 1668. Wife Phebe died at Topsfield 1663. His baptism probably recorded in the lost registers of Bovingdon.

Children:

102. MARY, " " " " 1621 Dec. 19
103. MARTHA, " " " " 1623 June 15
104. PRISCILLA, probably born at Great Missenden
105. JOHN, b. 1635 June 21, probably at Great Missenden

71. JOHN[7] GOULD, of Chalfont St. Giles, b. 1594, d. 1623 June 20, married Sarah, daughter of Henry Tredway.

Children:

106. ANNE
107. MARY
108. HENRY, of Iver*, posthumous, b. 1623-4 Feb. 15, d. 1677, m. Deborah, daughter of Thomas Whitechurch. She died 1695 Sept. 28

This last-named Henry, although not of a generation belonging here, is given as affording the only late branch in which I have followed the family upon English soil. He had two sons, the younger of whom died 1697 Dec. 28 and is buried with his mother in the chancel of the church of Chalfont St. Peter.

The elder son, Henry, also of Oak End, Iver, b. 1683, married Mary Layght 1702 May 12 and died 1739 June 21. She died 1768 July 30 aged 84. A marble slab in the floor of the church of Chalfont St. Giles, shows the place of their burial, and bears the family arms.

Their son Thomas left no son, and the estate passed to his daughter Sarah, who married (1) —— Sewall; (2) Sir Richard Ellis (d. 1769 Jan. 19); (3) Sir Francis Dashwood, Bart. (b. 1708 Dec.) [See Lipscomb's Hist. of Buckinghamshire II, 22; III, 246.]

* Iver is a village near the southern extremity of Buckinghamshire, about nine miles south of Bovingdon and less than five miles north of Windsor. The property of Henry Gould was close to the church of Chalfont St. Peter.

Lyson says in his Magna Britannia (Vol. I, pp. 585-6), "Bishop Kennet . . . supposes Roger de Iveri to have succeeded to the manor of Iver after Robert Doiley, who possessed it at the time of the Norman survey. Roger de Iveri and Robert Doiley were contemporaries and sworn friends; both came over with William the Conqueror, and had large grants of lands. Roger de Iveri had large estates in the county of Buckingham, but it does not appear that he ever possessed this manor, which in the survey of Domesday is called Evre and Evreham, being described as the property of Robert Doiley, from whom it passed with his daughter in marriage to Milo Crispin, and after his death to Brien Fitz-Count, the brave defender of Wallingford Castle, who we are told kept his Christmas at Iver, in the year 1143. Having afterwards entered into a religious order, the King (Henry II) seized on all his estates. . . . . The manor of Oak End, at the northern extremity of this parish is now the property and seat of Francis Sackville Lloyd, Esq., who inherits it by female descent from the family of Gould."

And later (p.606) he says of Great Missenden: "At this place was an abbey of black canons, etc. An old register of the convent dates its foundation in 1133 [temp. Henry I]. An ancient court-book of the manor says that it was founded by the Doyleys and augmented by the Missendens, pursuant to a vow. Sir William de Missenden gave the manor of this place to the abbey. . . . The patronage was afterwards in the Brudenells."

The author of this book is lineally descended in the maternal line from Nigell d'Oyley, brother and successor of Robert, who left no son; and his first American paternal ancestor came from Great Missenden.

In a letter from John Lane to Job Lane, dated 1678 March 3. and printed in the Genealogical Register (XI p. 232), the writer says, "Mrs. Mary Gould is yet living, and remains single still. Henry Gould is dead almost a year since." These were probably Nos. 107 and 108.

ZACCHEUS GOULD AND HIS SON JOHN.

ZACCHEUS GOULD. (1589–1668.)

THE immediate influences which brought Zaccheus Gould to New England are not revealed by any sources of information which I have been able to discover, nor yet the date of his arrival, nor the vessel in which he came; but it seems evident that his brother Jeremy, who was eight years older, preceded him by not less than a year, for the latter is found in Rhode Island in 1638, while his first residence appears to have been at Weymouth.

It will have been seen from the facts given in the account of his lineage, that a number of his near kindred came at not far from the same time as Zaccheus; for not only did he bring his wife and five children, but we find that three, at least, of the children of his brother John, of King's Langley, had come previous to the death of their mother Judith in 1650; — viz., Sarah, who was married and had children, Nathan, who settled in Salisbury, Sept. 1652, and the younger Zaccheus, on whose estate administration was granted to his sister Elizabeth in England in 1650, and whose death is mentioned in his mother's will. Moreover John, who in 1636 established himself in that part of Charlestown which is now Stoneham, and had come 1635 with his wife Grace in the Defence, was apparently of the age of the eldest brother of these, having been born in 1610. The record of his oath, made at Towcester in Northamptonshire, does not imply any residence at that place, but simply a necessary formality complied with on their way to London. The marriage of John, jr., of Stoneham to Martha Redington of Topsfield, daughter of Mary the second daughter of Zaccheus, lends some probability to this surmise; for, in the absence of roads between the two places, except by way of Boston and Lynn, and the infrequency of travel, it would suggest some especial reason for their previous acquaintance.

But, on the other hand, there is ground for belief that the Rev. Thomas Gould of Charlestown was a brother of John of Stoneham, and I find no record of any Thomas among the children of John of King's Langley.

In a letter of Rev. Daniel Gould of Bethel, Me., written in 1815 to his brother Moses of Boxford, is an elaborate account of such family traditions as he had been able to gather. In this interesting and instructive, although not always accurate, document, now in the possession of John H. Gould, Esq. of Topsfield, he says: "I have always been informed that the first Gould came into this country when his son John was three years old, in his hanging or large-sleeved tunic. This John was born at midsummer or the tenth of June, old style, 1635." In an account-book, kept by the second John Gould (no. 36), also now belonging to Mr. John H. Gould, is the memorandum, "Grandfather Gould lived in Buckinghamshire, and Grandfather Deacon lived in Hertfordshire in Hempsteadtown in Corner Hall. Grandfather Gould lived at a place called Hunts Green near Potter Row, belonging to Great [Missenden]." These places still exist under the same names. 'Grandfather Deacon' seemed clearly to have been Deacon John Baker, until it was definitely established that he came from Norwich. The absence of any record of baptism of Priscilla and John, the youngest two children of Zaccheus Gould, while the baptisms of their three elder sisters are upon the register at Hemel Hempstead, is explained by the removal of the family from Hemel Hempstead to Great Missenden and the subsequent loss of the records of that church, previous to 1678.

The earliest records of Zaccheus, which I have found in this country, indicate his presence at Weymouth. In 1639 Jeremy Gould sold land in Weymouth to Zaccheus Gould.

Henry Russell of that place made his will, 1639-40 Jan. 28, giving property to his wife Jane and to daughter Elizabeth, and making Zaccheus Gould and others the overseers of his will and of his daughter, Jeremy Gould and another were witnesses.

The residence at Weymouth appears to have been brief, although the earliest indication of his establishment at what was afterwards Topsfield is found in the action in 1644 upon his petition to the General Court, for a village to be incorporated in that part of Ipswich where he dwelt. Furthermore his son-in-law, John Wildes, testified in 1665 that, "about twenty-one years before, William Paine sold land to Zaccheus Gould, where his house now stands." At this place he lived and died; and from his only son John a vast number of descendants have sprung, who are to be found in every part of our land, and may trace their origin to Topsfield.

During the years between 1639 and 1644 Zaccheus appears to have dwelt at Lynn; and in 1640 he owned a mill on the Saugus River, according to Lewis's History of Lynn, p. 111. For some time I suspected the possibility that Zaccheus of Lynn might have been the nephew who died in New England; but this idea seems to have been erroneous, and no record of that younger Zaccheus in New England has come to light, other than that of his death, contained in the English documents heretofore cited.

In the Extracts from the MS. Note Book of Thomas Lechford, published in 1885 by the American Antiquarian Society, are various references to Zaccheus Gould during the period of his residence at Lynn.

A memorandum without date, but made in 1640 between May 26 and June 1, gives the conditions of the lease, by Mr. John Humfrey, of a messuage and farm called the Plains, containing about 300 acres of arable and woody ground lying within the liberties of Salem, unto Zaccheus Gould of Lynn, yeoman, for ten years. The annual rent was fixed at 400 bushels of rye, 300 of wheat, 200 of barley, with eight oxen, five cows, two heifers, four calves and two mares.

A subsequent memorandum, made between Dec. 11 and 19 of the same year, provides for the lease, for the same period, from Mr. John Humfrey to Zaccheus Gould of Lynn, of this farm and yet another called the Ponds; the rent to be £160 at first, and £200 after the second year, payable in wheat and rye at 5ˢ and barley at 4ˢ the bushel.

There is also the original draft of the following petition:—

"To the right worshipful Governor, Council and Assistants and the rest of the General Court now assembled, October 7, 1640.

The humble petition of Zaccheus Gould of Lynn, husbandman, in behalf of himself and all other husbandmen in the country—

Sheweth that whereas Husbandry and tillage much concern the good of this Commonwealth, and your petitioners have undertaken the managing and tilling of divers farms in this country and sowing of English Corn, their servants are oftentimes drawn from their work to train, in seed time, hay time and harvest, to the great discouragement and damage of your petitioners, and your petitioner the said Zaccheus Gould for himself saith that for one day's training this year he was much damnified in his hay. And forasmuch as fishermen upon just grounds are exempted from training because their trade is also for the Commonwealth,

Your petitioners humbly pray that this Court will be pleased to take the premises into their grave consideration and thereupon to give order for the encouragement of your petitioners who are husbandmen employed about English grain, that they and their servants be exempted from ordinary trainings in seed time, hay time and harvest. And your petitioners shall as their duty binds them pray &c."

This petition was effectual. By the law of 1637 [Mass. Bay Records, I 210] the appointment of the eight days of training was left to the discretion of the officers. The Court of Oct. 7, 1640, — to which Mr. Gould's petition was brought, — ordered that two trainings should be at the end of May or beginning of June, and six from the middle of October to the middle of March (Ibid. 308). The next year (at the General Court of June 2) the selection of days was given to the officers and soldiers in the several towns, and regard was to be had to "avoiding of loss of time and the opportunities of the furtherance of husbandry" &c. (Ib. 327).

In the office of the Clerk of Essex Courts at Salem, the name of Zaccheus Gould appears as witness, 1640 June 4, to the will of Hugh Churchman of Lynn. The handwriting of the body of the will appears to be the same as that of the witness's signature. This is his only autograph now known to be certainly authentic, — a singular fact, when we consider the large number of deeds he gave, and the many cases in which he is recorded as a witness.

The will was proved by him 1644 July 9, as appears by the Salem Quarterly Court Records.

The lease of Mr. Humfrey's farm was evidently never executed. In Lechford's Plaine Dealing (p. 43), he mentions the purchase of Mr. Humfrey's Swampscott Farm by Lady Deborah Moody for the sum of £1100, a few months after the above-cited memorandum was drawn up for the lease; and, not long afterward, Lechford writes of her: "She is good lady, almost undone by buying Master Humfrey's farm, Swampscot."

It may possibly be that this was not the farm, for which Zaccheus Gould had been in treaty; but at any rate Zaccheus Gould was, in the first half of 1644, already resident in what was then Ipswich. There he petitioned the colonial government, at a date not now precisely known, for that portion of Ipswich to be set off as a village by itself. This petition was granted 1644 May 29, on which day was ordained as follows: "Upon Zaccheus Gould's petition, it is conceived to be for the general good and very convenient, that there should be a village about that farm, and that the town of Ipswich should further them therein." — [Mass. Bay Records, II, 73.]

The village still remained, however, a precinct of Ipswich, for more than six years. But we find later, at a session of the General Court held at Boston 1650 Oct. 18:

"In answer to the request of Zaccheus Gould and William Howard of Topsfield, the Court doth grant that Topsfield shall henceforth be a town, and have power within themselves to order all civil affairs, as other towns have. — [Mass. Bay Records, IV, pt. 1, p. 33.]

In his very interesting address at the celebration in 1850 of the two hundredth anniversary of the incorporation of the town, the late Nehemiah Cleaveland, LL.D., said :—

"Obscurity has long rested upon the origin of the name, which was thus conferred upon this locality, two hundred years since. . . . . In that shire of England, from which this county was named, there is, four miles W.N.W. from Castle Hedingham, a small parish called Topesfield. To this place, unquestionably, some of those who first occupied these farms were wont to look back with a feeling, fond and filial, like that which has brought today many an emigrant to this home-gathering of ours. This Topesfield, whose maternity so far as we are concerned I think none can doubt, is a rectory in the hundred of Hinckford. Its church is dedicated to St. Margaret, and its patron is the king. At the beginning of this century its population was 685. Topesfield, with various orthography, such as Topsfelda, Topsfelde, Topsfeldam, occurs frequently in Domesday Book, a work written in Latin and made in the reign of Edward the Second. . . . . In the time of the Heptarchy, the whole place belonged to a yellow-haired Saxon whose name was Topa or Toppa. From that time his ample field has continued to bear his name." — [Address, pp. 10, 11.]

To these remarks of Dr. Cleaveland may be added the interesting fact that the name originally proposed was Hempstead, the parish in which the chapelry of Bovingdon is situated, and the early home of Zaccheus Gould. The following documents, lately discovered in the Massachusetts Archives, tell the story. It may be added that the signature of our ancestor there does not appear to be an autograph, for not only is the handwriting different from that of his other, and authentic, signature, but both the names are differently spelled. There is no date. The action on the petition is recorded as 1648 Oct. 18. — [Mass. Bay Records, II 258.]

We Humbly Intreate this Honored Court that you wold be pleased to bestowe a name upon our Villiage at the new medowes at Ipswich which wee suppose may bee an Incoragment to others to Come to live amongst us: and also a meanes to further a ministry amongst us, wee think that hempsteed will be a fit name if the Court please to gratify us herewith.

It would seem more than probable that the new name was assigned by the wish of Samuel Symonds, then an Assistant, who had come over in 1637 and settled in Ipswich. He owned an estate at Toppesfield in England, which parish was adjacent to that of his own home, in Yeldham.

With Suffolk Deeds, (I 56,58) are the records of deeds, from James Parker of Strawberry Bank [Portsmouth, N.H.] 1644 Nov. 26, in which he conveys to Zaccheus Gould of Ipswich a house and lands in Weymouth and nine acres of upland, which he bought of Jeremy Gould; and from Zaccheus Gould of Ipswich, 1645 Apr. 2, conveying the same to Capt. William Perkins.

His name appears frequently on the various court and town records as plaintiff, defendant or witness in those litigious days; but I mention only those instances which present a special interest. The indications are convincing that he enjoyed the respect and esteem of the community, although the temporary controversy with the Topsfield church requires some conjecture for its adequate explanation. This is not very difficult, when aided by light which has of late been thrown upon the subject, indirectly. In 1651 he took the oath of fidelity, Sept. 30, but he never became a "freeman" of the colony, for which position it was necessary for him to become a member of the church.

In the Ipswich Court, 1650–51 Jan. 26, a complaint was brought against him by Richard Shattswell "for taking away a mare upon a wrong pretence." The mare was a stray, which Gould had taken up. "Verdict, to return the mare." In the Salem Quarterly Court, 1650 Dec. 31, he prosecuted Joseph Fowler for slander in saying that he had stolen a horse, and a verdict of £10 was rendered for the plaintiff. This evidently relates to the same incident.

Six years later, 1656 Apr. 24, he was arraigned before the Ipswich Court for absence from meeting on the Lord's day, and the absence was proved. No defence was made, but I find no record of any penalty adjudged.

In 1659 a notable incident occurred. He was presented, March 29, at the Ipswich Court, for disturbance in public worship at the time of singing the psalm. He was said to have

"sat down on the end of the table about which the minister and scribe sit, with his hat full on his head and his back toward all the rest. Although spoken to by the minister and others he altered not his posture. He spoke audibly when the minister was preaching." Among the witnesses against him were Mr. William Perkins, who was officiating as minister, and Isaac Cummings. The former of these acted as minister of Topsfield from 1655 to 1663, although there is no record that he was ever ordained. He was the Capt. Perkins who had formerly been resident in Roxbury and Weymouth, to whom Zaccheus had sold his estate at Weymouth in April 1645, and whom he had sued for a debt in July 1644; so that they were old acquaintances before Perkins came to Topsfield. Isaac Cummings's name appears on various occasions as complainant against Zaccheus Gould and his son John. The order of the court was that the defendant be admonished.

Some inferences, as to the agencies which may possibly have prompted the demeanor in meeting alluded to, may be drawn from his apparent sentiments regarding Mr. Perkins, combined with another occurrence in the same year.

The Massachusetts Bay Colonial Records of 1659 Nov. 12 show [IV, pt. 1, p. 407] that on that day a fine of £3 was imposed upon Zaccheus Gould for entertaining Quakers; and (p. 411) that Daniel Gould was sentenced to be whipped with thirty stripes, and to depart this jurisdiction within five days; —'failing in which, to be committed to prison and proceeded with according to law.' — We now know that this Daniel Gould was a nephew of Zaccheus, being a son of his brother Jeremy of Rhode Island, and a recent convert to the tenets of the Quakers. His pamphlet describing his sufferings in prison and by scourging, for giving free rein to his "missionary zeal" in "bearing witness" to his faith, was printed in 1700.

Lewis in his History of Lynn [Ed. 1844, p. 148] gives the following account of this affair.

"The Gen[l] Court had passed some very severe laws against the people called Friends, or Quakers, forbidding any even to admit them into their houses, under a penalty of forty shillings an hour.

Mr. Zaccheus Gould had offended against this order, for which he was arraigned by the Court. On the 25th of November, 'the deputies having heard of what Zaccheus Gould hath alleged in Court, in reference to his entertainment of Quakers, do think it meet that the rigor of the law, in that case provided, be exercised upon him; but considering his ingenious [Qu. ingenuous] confession, & profession of his ignorance of the law, & he also having long attended the Court, do judge that he shall only be admonished for his offence by the governor, and so be dismissed the Court, and all with reference to the consent of our honored magistrates hereto.'

This decision of the deputies was sent to the magistrates and returned with this indorsement: — 'The magistrates consent not thereto.' So it is probable that Mr. Gould was compelled to pay his fine."

In the following spring, 1660 May 31, as the same Colonial Records show (p. 426), the fine imposed on Zaccheus was remitted, "in consequence of his great loss lately sustained by fire."

The supposition is natural that the influence of his kinsman, who, whatever the soundness of his views or judgement, was manifestly a man of earnest piety, and of a martyr's spirit, served, in connection with the acts of injustice and persecution which Zaccheus personally witnessed and experienced, to bring about the state of mind which culminated in the behavior cited.

That any state of mind incompatible with due regard to the conventionalities was of comparatively short duration, may be inferred from extracts from the Topsfield Town Records, vol. I, p. 9.*

"At a meeting of the Selectmen March 10, 1661–2. Whereas Zaccheus Gould at a Town meeting in February the 23 day 1658 did then join himself with his estate to the Town of Topsfield for seven years or term of his life, or until a minister be settled in Rowley village, he doth now, being at a meeting of the Selectmen of Topsfield, give his Farm of three hundred acres which he lives upon, unto Topsfield for ever, with all the privileges and appurtenances thereunto belonging.

ZACCHEUS GOULD."

"At a lawful Town meeting the 14 of March 1661. Whereas Zaccheus Gould at a Town meeting in February 23, 1658, did then join himself, with his estate to ye Town of Topsfield for seven years, or term of his life, or until a Minister be settled in Rowley village, he doth now at a Town meeting give in his farm of three hundred acres, which he bought of Mr. William Paine, that he now lives upon, to Topsfield, the said Zaccheus Gould by these presents doth for himself, heirs, executors, administrators or assigns give in the aforesaid farme unto the said Towne forever with all the priveledges and apurtnances thereunto belonging, witness my hand

ZACCHEUS GOULD."

This action, which began in February 1658–9 and was not completed until March 1661–2, was probably connected with the dissensions between the people of Topsfield and the adjoining settlement at "Rowley Village" (now Boxford) regarding the boundary line which separated them. The large estate of Zaccheus Gould was intersected by the line claimed by Boxford; and by this declaration of the owner it was considered that the jurisdiction of Topsfield was extended over the whole.* Since the authority of the town and that of the church of Topsfield was practically over the same territory, it seems clear that any manifestations of antagonism on the part of Mr. Gould were not directed so much toward the church as toward certain of its officials.

The declaration of adhesion to Topsfield was confirmed by the General Court, a little more than three years later, by an order [Mass. Bay Records, IV, pt. 2, 289] dated 1665 Oct. 11.

"In answer to the petition of the inhabitants of Rowley in the one part, and Zaccheus Gould on the other part, the Court, having heard what both parties could say for themselves, judge meet to order that the farm of three hundred acres on which Zaccheus Gould doth live, that was formerly Mr. Payne's and Capt. Patrick's shall be liable to pay all charges to Topsfield till this Court shall take further order, and have priviledges accordingly, and that Zaccheus Gould and Rowley shall pay five pounds equally between them for the Court's charges in hearing of the case."

In the same volume of the Records, pp. 301, 308, we find, under date of 1661 May 23,

"Allowances of a return of a Commission appointed in 1663 to settle the controversy between Governor Endicott and Zaccheus Gould as to the boundary between their farms."

"Report of measurement of three hundred acres formerly granted to Capt. Patrick and purchased by Zaccheus Gould fixing boundaries between these and the lands of Richard Bellingham and Maj. Gen. Denison."

The Rev. Daniel Gould, in his historical narrative already mentioned, says that the first house built on the farm purchased by his great-great grandfather (Zaccheus) was a block-house to defend the inhabitants against the depredations of the Indians, and that a garrison was kept in it for several years. "It stood in the same place where my house now stands in Tops-

* Mr. Cleaveland says in his address, p. 16: "While Boxford was a part of Rowley, and known as Rowley Village, many of its inhabitants attended meeting here — being parochially and ecclesiastically connected with Topsfield. It so happened that some of these persons requested a dismission from this church to that of Boxford, at a time when these difficulties were at their height. The answer, in substance, was, that the letters of dismission would be granted whenever Boxford should show a Christian spirit, and behave properly in regard to the boundary."

The final establishment of the dividing line, as now existing, was made in 1731.

field, which I take to be the third house built on the farm. The present house was built by my father and uncle Solomon, after the death of our grandfather John Gould" in 1724.

In the bicentennial address of Mr. Cleaveland we read: "There has been a traditionary opinion that the house formerly owned by Rev. Daniel Gould, and now on the land of Captain Elliott, is extremely ancient. This opinion is not wholly without confirmation. A few months since the chimney of this house was taken down. Between the woodwork and the bricks was found an ancient paper in good preservation. Its date is Feb. 1, 1675. It is an account presented by John Ruck and John Putnam to the Proprietors of the Iron Works in Rowley Village, — with the doings of a meeting of said Proprietors. It is not strange that such a paper should have been in this house, for Zaccheus and John Gould are known to have been interested in those works."

This house no longer exists, having been destroyed by fire in the year 1878. On its site, stands a fourth dwelling house, now owned by David Pingree.

No allusion to his kindred outside of Essex County has been found among the few records of his life and activity now extant; but in 1658 he deputed "John Putnam of Salem the younger (his cousin)" to be his attorney. Since no alliance between the Goulds and Putnams is known to have taken place prior to that date in this country, any relationship must naturally be referred to some in England which has not been discovered. The same title of cousin is given by his grandson John to a Putnam of the second generation in the old account book already mentioned. Possibly Phebe, wife of Zaccheus, may have been a Putnam, or Priscilla wife of the elder John Putnam, a Gould, although she does not appear in our record of the family in England. It was not unusual to apply the title cousin to a nephew. John Putnam appears to have come to Salem about 1640 from Aston Abbots in Bucks, near Aylesbury, the village where Jeremy Gould's son Henry was baptized in 1631.

That Zaccheus was born in 1589 appears from the record* of a deposition made by him at Salem Court, 1661 March 26, stating that he was then seventy-two years old.

His death must have occurred between 1668 March 30 and 1668 Nov. 13; for on the former of these dates he acknowledged the conveyance of land to Thomas Perkins, and on the latter, there is record of a division of "the Common, on Salem side of the river," (now Middleton), in which it is stated that he was dead.

* In Essex Early Court Files of that date.

Rev. Daniel Gould writes, "I was informed by my father, when very young, that his father and grandfather, &c. were buried in the pasture then belonging to Capt. Thomas Baker, behind the house now owned by Dr. John Merriam; and perhaps many of the ancient inhabitants of the town are buried there, as it was near the meeting house in those days; for it then stood on the burying place."

This description of the pasture agrees sufficiently with the site of the present cemetery, or land now annexed to it. In 1868 two large boulders stood together in this ground, which I was informed were indicated by tradition as marking the burial places of Zaccheus Gould and his wife Phebe. These have since then been removed.

Zaccheus Gould became probably the largest land owner in the region; his property, at the time of his death, being estimated at not less than 3000 acres, extending over a large tract in what was then known as Rowley Village, but which was incorporated as a separate town, under the name of Boxford, some seventeen years after his death. A map, accompanying this volume, shows the boundaries of this territory in Topsfield, inherited by his son, — a little more than 580 acres in all.

Before moving from Lynn to Ipswich [Topsfield] he purchased of William Paine, previously of Watertown, a tract of land which Paine had bought of Capt. Daniel Patrick, to whom the General Court had granted three hundred acres, without locating them. This Patrick had served in the Prince of Orange's guard, in Holland, and may himself have been a native of that country. He was one of the two salaried captains who had been sent for to instruct the colony in military discipline; and he commanded an expedition against the Pequots in 1637, for an account of which see Hutchinson's History, I. 76. More regarding him can be found in Winthrop, I. 74, II. 151, and in Hinman p. 60. Upon this land, which was laid out in 1640, to the north of Ipswich River and east of Fishing Brook, Zaccheus Gould established himself and built his first house, doubtless a block-house with defences against the savages, as is related from tradition in the Rev. Daniel's narrative. In this place he dwelt, here he built his second, and more comfortable house, and upon this land and contiguous estate afterwards acquired, lived his son and his grandchildren. Upon the same, many of his descendants reside at the present time.

Gov. Endicott's grant was on the other side of Fishing Brook, and consisted of 550 acres. A controversy as to the boundary between the two farms was adjusted in 1666 [Mass. Bay Records, IV. 2, p. 301].

It has already been stated that Zaccheus Gould never registered himself as a "freeman" of the colony, — to become which it was necessary to be a member of the church, — but that he took the oath of fidelity in 1651. His son, John, became a freeman in 1665, about five years after his marriage. From various indications, the father seems to have been a man of exceptional liberality in his theological ideas; maintaining friendly relations with Quakers and with Baptists, although both were proscribed. We now know that the Quaker, Daniel Gould, from Newport, was his guest, although heavy penalties were attached to "harboring" Quakers. And even the will written by him in 1640 for Hugh Churchman deals with persons who, personally, or through their kindred, provoked the hostility of the ecclesiastical authorities on account of their sympathy with the Baptists. William Winter (or Witter, as he is always called by Lewis, and by Savage, following him), was especially obnoxious for his opposition to infant baptism, and for his own rebaptism in 1651 [See Lewis's History of Lynn, Ed. 1844, pages 122, 130, 136, 137]. Edward Burt, a legatee by the same will, was grandson of George Bunker, who had been punished in 1637 as a support of Wheelwright, — the same Bunker, by the way, who owned the hill in Charlestown, which has made his name immortal.

JOHN GOULD. (1635–1710.)

JOHN GOULD was Selectman of Topsfield in 1663, when he was twenty-eight years old; also in fourteen subsequent years, the latest being in 1702, at the age of sixty-seven.

The earliest other public records of him are found at the Ipswich Court 1664 March 29, on which day he was plaintiff in two cases, and also surety upon the bonds of John Willington and Simon Tuttle.

On October 12, 1660, at the age of twenty-five, he married Sarah, daughter of John and Elizabeth Baker, (born 1641 March 9)* with whom he lived for nearly fifty years, apparently in the most happy relations, until her death 1708–9 Jan. 20; his own death following, a year later. The record of Rev. Joseph Capen, who was appointed minister of Topsfield in 1682, shows that Lieut. Gould's wife then stood second in seniority among the female members of the church, and her husband, fifth among the males.

* No account of this family seems to have been correctly published; for which reason it is given here in full.

JOHN BAKER, grocer, from Norwich, Co. Norfolk, England, came in 1637, in the Rose of Yarmouth, to Boston. In W. S. Appleton's "Ancestry of Priscilla Baker" is a copy of his examination before embarking. He was aged 39, and his wife Elizabeth, 31; they brought with them three children and four servants, as given in Savage's Genealogical Dictionary. He was of Ipswich 1638.

The children brought with him were:

He was a man of prominent importance in the community throughout his life; and few names are more frequently met with than his, in the records of his town, county and courts. A vigorous, undismayed maintenance of his opinions, a sturdy independence and an unselfish public spirit are manifest throughout his career, which was characterized by a strong sense of justice, zeal for the welfare of the community, and sincere devotion to the spirit of liberty in church and state.

One of his early important enterprises related to the celebrated iron-works of Rowley Village. The first serious attempt at smelting and forging iron in America appears to have been made at Lynn in the year 1643. Bog iron was known to exist at numerous places in New England; but a foundry or forge had nowhere been established until that time. The history of the undertaking is given with considerable detail in Lewis's History of Lynn. Specimens of the ore were carried from Saugus to London, where a company was organized. Several persons familiar with the iron industry came from England to take part in the work, among whom Henry Leonard was prominent. Especial privileges were granted the company in 1644 and 1645, after the feasibility of the undertaking had been practically tested. In September following, land was purchased for a similar enterprise at Braintree, and later yet other essays were made at Taunton under the guidance of James Leonard, brother of Henry. But in 1668 Henry came from Lynn, to pursue the same business at Rowley Village (afterwards Boxford) close to the Topsfield line. The site was upon land which had been bequeathed by Zaccheus Gould to his son John, who took an active part in the undertaking. In December 1670 he conveyed eighty acres of land for the purpose to the "owners of the Iron Works at Rowley Village, of whom the grantor is one." The capital stock of the company was £1000; the shares of Henry Leonard and John Gould being each one-sixteenth part.

Three more children were born in this country:

The iron works proved an unsuccessful venture, pecuniarily, and were abandoned after about a dozen years, in 1680 or soon after. A very interesting and elaborate account of them is given by Mr. Sidney Perley in the Collections of the Essex Institute, vol. 25, pp. 295–305. He says "the property, including the land, buildings and apparatus of the iron-company, finally came wholly into the possession and ownership of the brave old patriot Capt. Gould, who sold the house and land to his son Samuel in 1695. Capt. Gould never lived here, probably; but Samuel made it his residence. In 1714 the house was destroyed by fire; Mr. Gould erected a new one and continued to reside here. He died in 1724, and his son Samuel, jun., settled on the homestead living here until 1746, when he sold the house to Samuel Fisk of Boxford and removed to Brookfield." "The house was standing in 1797."

The cellar of this house is still to be seen, and the site of the iron-works is easily to be recognized, with traces of the dam, water-ways, etc.; and iron slags are still to be found in abundance on the premises, bearing witness to the industry carried on there more than two hundred years ago.

The Ipswich Court Records of 1671 give token of a somewhat serious and certainly most unusual conflict between him and his pastor. This minister, Mr. Thomas Gilbert, a Scotchman by birth, had been a clergyman of the Established Church of England, but ejected from his benefice by the "Act of Uniformity" in 1662. His ministry over the Puritan Congregational Church at Topsfield, to which he came in the ensuing year, does not appear to have been very conducive to the spiritual welfare of his people. Some little account of him is given in Cleaveland's bicentennial address and in Perley's History of Boxford. He had difficulties with his people, who sometimes arraigned him before the courts of law. He was brought before the County Court in 1662 on a charge of sedition, and was complained of again in 1670 upon a charge of intemperance, which appears to have been too well proved. "He went into the pulpit in a disordered state, which he betrayed by the confusion of his thoughts and the clipping of his words, and especially by forgetting the order of the exercises." The case became so bad, that at last one of the congregation rose and begged him to stop.

Among the witnesses was Mrs. Sarah Gould, John's wife. In the next following year, the records of a single day, 1671 Sept. 26, contain four separate cases, which although terse, are very suggestive, and afford ample opportunity for imagination.

> "Mr. Thomas Gilbert v. Ensign John Gould, for Sary Gould's defaming him. Verdict for defendant.
> "Also an action for assault. Verdict for plaintiff. Fine 20s.
> "Also another action of slander, for saying he was a lying in the pulpit. Verdict for defendant.
> "Ensign John Gould, in behalf of his wife Sarah, v. Mr. Thomas Gilbert. Action of slander. Verdict for plaintiff 40s."

In 1675,6 he took part in the Narragansett campaign, enlisting in the "Three-County Troop," under Capt. Hutchinson, and again under Capt. Wheeler. (Mass. Archives vol. 68, p. 73; Gen. Reg. xxxviii, History of King Philip's War, Ibid. xlii, 94.)

During the years immediately following this Indian war, the Colonists of New England had become profoundly agitated by the political changes in the mother country. The reign of Charles II, during which episcopacy had been avowedly restored while evident, even if unavowed, steps were taken toward the establishment of full Catholicism, had sorely strained their sentiments of loyalty. When, upon his death, in 1685, his brother James succeeded to the throne, the latter soon threw off every mask tending to conceal his purpose of reintroducing Roman Catholicism in England. Furthermore he began a system of tyrannical and arbitrary measures in his own country, and soon endeavored to extend this policy to the colonies also. The Massachusetts Charter, already declared forfeited under King Charles II, was no longer recognized; and, even in the official letter to the governor calling for the proclamation of James II as king (which was made at Boston 1686 April 20), the statement was carefully added that the letter was not written as to a government, the charter being vacated. In May a frigate from England arrived, bringing a commission for Dudley, as President, Randolph as Secretary, and sundry others as councillors, to take upon themselves the administration of government. This commission was communicated to the General Court, which unanimously resolved upon a respectful but decided reply, refusing its assent.

Dudley's administration was very shortlived, although sufficiently timeserving; but in December of that same year, Sir Edmund Andros arrived, with a royal commission for the government of all New England, — a man whose name is still preserved as a synonym for all that is arbitrary and tyrannical, and a fit coworker with Kirke and Jeffries, as a tool executing the despotic will of his master. The liberty of the press was still further restrained, and impediments were thrown even in the way of the customary solemnization of marriage. The congregational ministers of the country were disregarded by Andros as far as possible, although they could not be entirely ignored, inasmuch as there was but one episcopal clergyman in the country, — Robert Ratcliff, a resident of Boston, who had come out in the frigate Rose with Dudley's commission in May 1686, and who appears to have gone home three years later, when his patron Andros was disposed of. But Edward Randolph, the covetous and unscrupulous "evil genius of New England" wrote to the Bishop of London: — "I press for able and sober ministers, and we will contribute largely to their maintenance; but one thing will mainly help, when no marriages shall hereafter be allowed lawful, but such as are made by the ministers of the Church of England." (Hutchinson, I, 318).

This brief sketch of the state of public affairs may afford some idea of what must have been the sentiments of the people of Massachusetts, although they were in general patient under the new government quite as long as patience remained a virtue.

John Gould was less forbearing than most of his fellow citizens. Although then holding only a lieutenant's commission, he commanded the Topsfield company of militia, in which were included the men from Rowley Village, which had, less than a year before, been incorporated as the Town of Boxford. He seems to have been outspoken and comparatively unreserved, in the expression of his views; and the discipline of Dudley and Randolph was speedily brought to bear upon him. John Appleton of Ipswich, a man of prominence in that town, was imprisoned and mulcted for his strenuous utterance of patriotic sentiments, as also was his fellow townsman, the Rev. John Wise. Rev. Increase Mather of Boston, who was similarly active, was sufficiently adroit to escape personal harm, although persecuted by Randolph who sent to England one or more forged letters against him. But the most noted case was that of Capt. Gould, which is mentioned with these three others by Hutchinson, in his History (I, 326,7). It may be interesting if I cite some of the original documents, which may be found in the Mass. Colonial Records and in Mass. Histor. Collections, Series 3, VII, 150.

NEW ENGLAND, SC.

Rex contra Gould, in Sessione Speciali, 19th August, 1686.

The Jurors for our Sovereign Lord, the King, do upon their oaths present that John Gould, sen, otherwise called Lieut. Gould, of Topsfield, in the County of Essex, husbandman, by force and arms, that is to say, between the 23d and 30th of May, in the second year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord, &c, being evilly affected against our most sacred Lord the King, aforesaid, his supreme and natural Lord, and devising with all his might, and intending to disturb the peace and common tranquillity of this his Majesty's Territory & Dominion of New England, as the same is now settled by his Majesty's Royal Commission under his great Seal of England, and the introducing again of the late Government, dissolved by law, at a Riotous Muster of armed men gathered together by him, the aforesaid John Gould as their pretended officer at Topsfield aforesaid, in the year aforesaid, he the said John Gould as aforesaid, then and there being, did against the duty of his Allegiance, and in terror of his Majesty's liege people, maliciously, wickedly, seditiously, treasonably and advisedly speak and utter these malicious, treasonable and seditious speeches following, viz: If the Country was of his mind, they would keep Salem Court with the former Magistrates, and if the Country would go the Rounds, he would make the first, and would go & keep Salem Court, and would have his company down to do it. And, further, he, the said John Gould as aforesaid, on or about the 11th day of July, at Topsfield aforesaid, in the County aforesaid, in the year aforesaid, maliciously, advisedly and treasonably, did say and utter, these malicious, treasonable and seditious words following, viz: That he was under another Government, and had sworn to another Government, and did not know this Government, and this in manifest contempt of his Majesty's laws and Government here in New England, to the evil and pernicious example of all others in the like case offending, and against the peace of our said Sovereign Lord the King, his Crown and dignity.

But the old patriot appears to have been brought to nominal submission at last, — as so many others, similarly situated, have been, both before and since that time, — especially when further persistence seemed useless. Whether any half-uttered expression of "mental reservation" escaped from his lips, as they did from those of Galileo after the "more severe examination," we have no means of knowing, nor yet what agencies were employed to bring him to terms; but he ultimately signed a petition for release, in which is an expression of sorrow, "for the idle words he uttered." It was then decreed, as follows: —

"By the President & Council of his Majesty's Territory of New England,

Upon reading the petition of John Gould, and considering the poverty of his family, it is ordered,

That upon the payment of Fifty Pounds in money, and charges of Prosecution the remainder of his fine be respited, and he be released of his imprisonment, he giving bonds for his good behaviour, according to order of Court

ED. RANDOLPH, Secretary"

Aug. 25th, 1686

The bill of costs amounted to £10.. 1.. 0 and the bond was for £100.

Well might Randolph write, Aug. 23, to the Lord Treasurer in England the letter beginning

"May it please your Lordship,

By the blessing of God, and your Lordship's favour, I have performed his Majesty's commands, and brought this people to a nearer dependence upon the Crown. I have likewise served 2 writs of Quo Warranto upon the other 2 Colonies of Conneticut and Rhode Island, who are preparing to make their humble submission to his Majesty. But unless his Majesty please, in a very short time, to send us over a General Governor from England, all that is already done will be of little advantage to his Majesty's interest. The independent faction still prevails," etc.

The desired Governor General arrived; and it was Andros. But the independent faction continued to prevail; and in April 1689, upon the receipt of the news of the landing of the Prince of Orange in England, the people of Boston rose in insurrection. They called to their council the former governor, the venerable Bradstreet, then eighty-six years old. He, at the head of fourteen of the magistrates of 1686 under the charter, demanded of Andros, in the name of the people, the immediate surrender of the government and the fortifications. Andros and his council refused, and took refuge in the Fort. But he was compelled to surrender, and was imprisoned in the same jail in which Capt. Gould had been immured. In the following July Andros was sent back to England. Bradstreet was elected Governor of Massachusetts and New Hampshire, under the union, and was reelected annually until the arrival in 1692 of Sir William Phips with a new charter.

Perley, in the Essex Institute Collections already cited, quotes the instructions given by the town of Boxford, to John Peabody, their first representative in the General Court, beginning thus:

"We the freeholders & inhabitants of Boxford, being very sensible of, and thankful to God for, his great mercies to us, in delivering us from the tyranny and oppression of these ill men, under whose injustice & cruelty we have so long groaned," etc.

In 1689 Capt. Gould was reelected selectman, as he had been in 1686; and in 1690 and afterwards he was chosen the deputy of Topsfield to the General Court.

Another passage in the life of John Gould may perhaps be worth mentioning in this brief account. In the absence of official records, the case may be sufficiently inferred from private ones.

The Narrative by Rev. Daniel Gould contains the following paragraph relative to his great-grandfather. Naturally he wrote from the tradition of the elders; and, as is not uncommon, was sometimes inaccurate in subordinate details. And we have already seen that the especial utterances of Capt. John, which brought upon him imprisonment and fines, were made some months previous to the arrival of Andros, and were directed, not at him, but against the new magistrates imposed upon the people after the abrogation of the charter. What he may have said after Andros had assumed power, documentary history has not transmitted to us.

"He was a high liberty man. He lost his commission as Captain of the company, under the tyrannical administration of Governor Sir Edmund Andros, for saying at the head of the company that 'if they were all of his mind, they would go and mob the governor out of Boston.' Information of which was given to Governor Andros by one John How of Topsfield, who, it appears was as great a tyrant as the Governor himself; and also was an envious and self-conceited man, so that when he was asked by the Governor, who should be appointed in the place of Captain Gould, answered, 'The eyes of the people are upon myself, Sir'! Accordingly Capt. Gould was displaced, and said How was appointed in his room. But Captain How, in his turn was himself afterwards deposed, upon the revolution which took place in England, and Mary and William ascended the British throne in 1692. And Captain Gould was again commissioned as captain of the company in Augt 1696, by William Stoughton Esq, Lieut. Governor, and at this time Commander in Chief."

In a record kept by the Rev. Joseph Capen, minister of Topsfield we read his account of a sequel.

"June 13, 1692. A church meeting was at my house which was to see if they could put an end to the difference that has been between Lieut. Gould and Capt. How and Jacob Towne, senr. Capt. How did then take some blame to himself with respect to an oath which he had taken against Lieut. Gould, about 16 or 17 years before, about Lieut. Gould his not restraining the Indians that were about his house. Capt. How did own that, although the substance of the oath was true, yet being not so safely worded as might have been, was sorry that he had not perused that said oath better, before he took it. Also that he was heartily sorry that he had been an occasion of so much trouble to Lieut. Gould in Sir Edmund's time, as also that he had spoken publickly, in the Court at Boston, anything that might be taken to Reflect on the town of Topsfield, in saying because he was for Resignation he was so maligned that he was afraid to go home, was afraid of his life, although he intended it not as to the Town in general, but 2 or 3 particular persons.

Ensign Towne that was also complained of for signing false things to the Court against Lieut. Gould being made choice of for a captain, Ensign Towne did own that whereas he had said in the writing that there were but 27 votes for Lieut. Gould, and several of them boys, and so not legal voters, as also that the major part of the Town would attest to those things, in those two expressions he owned his error in subscribing to, whereas he did not so intend or understand, and that for the future he would be more cautious to what he did set his hands. The Church did then upon Capt. How and Ensign Towne their owning these things, in which the Church did apprehend them to be blameworthy, the Church did then by their votes particularly declare their satisfaction with them.

And at the same time Lieut. Gould being called to an account for his withdrawing from the sacrament so long, looking on these things which he objected against Capt. How as being no grounds to withdraw his communion from the rest of the church, he did so far fall under it as to express sorrow for any offence in the matter which he had given the church. Whereupon the church passed a vote for to express their willingness that he should again partake with them at the Lord's table.

Also at the same time, Lieut. Gould and Captain How, in token of their mutual forgiveness as to whatever had been previous between them, did take each other by the hand, promising better for the future. Also Ensign Towne and Lieut. Gould did the like."

An eminent and honored historian, himself a native of Essex County, whose researches had led him to the record just quoted, inclosed it about a quarter of a century ago, to the writer of this, under the impression that he might not have seen it. He writes: —

It places before us your stanch old ancestor, as long ago certainly as 1675, calm and fearless, though Indians were hanging around and encamped probably near his house. Timid neighbor How is for vigorous measures, and begs the brave Lieutenant to drive them off, — at which the lieutenant laughs. But when the cowardly time-server attacks and abuses him for the noble stand which he made against the usurping and tyrannical government, — still further, when he goes before the great and general Court, and there, under oath, testifies against his townsman and neighbor, — Lieut. Gould thinks that matters have been carried a little too far. "If this . . . . How is a worthy member of the Christian Church, and one with whom it is fit and proper for brethren to hold communion, why, then I am not such a member, and I will just stay away." I do not know that he said this, but one can see that he thought so, and cannot greatly blame him. At any rate, the course he took brought things to a head, and cleared the sky.

This noble old patriarch continued to fill offices of honor and trust throughout his life; the last official record concerning him being with reference to his purchase of ammunition for the town in 1706. During fifteen years he was one of the three selectmen, and was three times chosen deputy or representative to the General Court. The Rev. Daniel Gould says of him:

"His literary qualifications were good; he wrote a very good hand in the fashion of the day in which he lived. I have many of his writings in my possession." These are not now to be found, but the photographic reproduction of a bond written by him is here given.

He died in January 1710 (N.S.), in the seventy-fifth year of his age, leaving the reputation of an honorable, public-spirited, and religious man, morally as well as physically brave, and of sterling integrity.

His extensive landed estate was divided among his five sons, and most of it long remained in the possession of their posterity. The division appears to have been made by him during his lifetime. John, the eldest son, succeeded his father in the old homestead, where his grandfather Zaccheus had built the original block-house in 1644. Thomas's share was where Elijah and Nathaniel Gould were living in 1815, Samuel's was near Symonds's Mills. Those of Zaccheus and Joseph were where their namesakes dwelt in 1815. The sites of their houses are indicated on the map which accompanies this volume.

21. Daniel, b. 1657–8 Mar. 17; m. 1680 Mar. 23 Elizabeth Davidson (d. 1731 Oct. 8); d. 1731 Sep. 27.

22. Sarah, b. 1658–9 March 12; not mentioned in her father's will.

* This alliance with one of the name, residing at so great a distance, suggests the probability of some kinship between the Goulds of Topsfield and those of Stoneham.

5.

MARTHA[2], dau. of Zaccheus Gould; b. 1623; m. John NEWMARCH of Ipswich, whose will, made 1696–7 Feb. 14, was proved 1696–7 Mar. 1. He seems to have been a resident of Ipswich in 1638. She was her husband's executrix and died 1699.

Children:

23. John m. Johanna ———; d. 1737 May 21. They had a dau. Johanna, b. 1690 Apr. 11.
24. Thomas m. Abigail ———

Children:

29. John d. going into the army. In will dated 1676 Oct. 22, proved 1677 Sept. 25, he left legacies to sisters and to bro. Ephraim.
30. Sarah
31. Elizabeth
32. Phebe m. Timothy Day.
33. Priscilla, b. 1658 Apr. 6; m. 1681 May 9 Henry Lake (b. 1635; d. 1733 May 22); d. 1688 March 23. They had two sons and two daughters.

* Ephraim Wildes, b. ab. 1665 (wife Margery) was son of the second wife Sarah [Averill]. Being constable of Topsfield in 1692, he was called upon by the constable of Salem to arrest sundry persons, among whom were William Hobbs and wife Deliverance, upon charge of witchcraft. It would appear that Goody Hobbs, in order to save herself and be revenged upon the man arresting her, confessed her guilt but denounced his mother as the instigator; at least so he distinctly intimates in his affidavit. All defence was unavailing; for, two months later, she was condemned, and on Tuesday July 19 was executed, stoutly maintaining her innocence to the last, unlike many of her fellow-sufferers, who were terrified into confession.

34. Martha, b. 1660 May 13.
35. Nathan, b. 1662–3 Mar. 17; d. 1662 Dec. 14.

7.

JOHN[2] GOULD, born 1635 June 10–21, only son of Zaccheus; m. 1660 Oct. 14 SARAH, dau. of John Baker. She was born 1641 Mar. 9, and died 1708–9 Jan. 20. He d. 1709–10 Jan 26.

36. John[3], b. 1662 Dec. 1; m. 1684 Phebe French; d. 1724.
37. Sarah[3], b. 1664 Dec. 18; m. 1682 Joseph Bixby, jun.; d. 1723.
38. Thomas[3], b. 1666 Feb. 14; m. 1) 1700 Mary Yates; 2) 1728–9 wid. Mary Stanley; d. 1752.
39. Samuel[3], b. 1669–70 Mar. 9; m. 1697 Margaret Stone; d. 1724.
40. Zaccheus[3], b. 1672 Mar. 26; m. 1702 Elizabeth Curtice; d. 1739.
41. Priscilla[3], b. 1674 Nov. 2; m. 1695 John Curtice, jun.; d. 1715.
42. Joseph[3], b. 1677 Aug. 24; m. 1712–3 Priscilla Perkins; d. 1753.
43. Mary[3], b. 1681 June 16; d. 1689 May 11.

Each of these five sons of Capt. John[2] Gould was the founder of a numerous family or tribe, and it may be convenient to keep these distinct from one another in our record.

THIRD GENERATION.

36.

JOHN[3] GOULD, eldest son of John[2], b. 1662 Dec. 1; m. 1684 Nov. 10 PHEBE (b. 1667 May 8; d. 1718 Apr. 25), dau. of John French; d. 1724 Nov. 5.

"He was a weaver by trade, and so was his brother Thomas; and seems to have been a man of business, by his accounts. His education was good, and he appears to have been a man of note in the town." (Rev. Daniel Gould.)

Children:

44. Phebe[4], b. 1685 July 7; m. 1706 Thomas Curtice.
45. John[4], b. 1687 Aug. 25; m. 1) 1708 Hannah Curtice; 2) 1715 Phebe Towne.
46. Mary[4], b. 1689 May 11; m. 1711 Thomas Stanley.
47. Nathaniel[4], b. 1691 (bapt. Oct. 25); m. 1716 Grace Hurd.
48. Sarah[4], b. 1694 Sept. 8; m. 1720 Thomas Butler.

91. Nathaniel, b. 1698–9 Mar. 13; owned covenant 1733; m. Experience ———

* "He was a very useful man in the town. Although his education was small, yet he filled many important offices, was one of the Selectmen of the town 18 years in 21, and represented the town in the General Court. He was a wealthy farmer and a very benevolent man; and though he had no children of his own, yet he brought up many fatherless and motherless children, as also poor ones, from their infancy. He was a man of sound judgement, — a terror to evil doers, and a praise to all who did well. His wife was one of the excellent of the earth." (Rev. Daniel Gould, 1815).

He is said to have possessed remarkable arithmetical ability, habitually performing complicated calculations in his mind, within less time than most others could do them on paper.

Mr. Zaccheus Gould and his wife Rebecca, having no children of their own, brought up in their household the five following:

a Mary Hooper, from Salem, an orphan. She m. 1766 (publ. June 8) Aaron Esty, who moved to Vermont.
b Zaccheus (No. 308) son of Mr. Gould's brother Eliezer.
c Rebecca (No. 312) dau. of the same. She m. 1788 Amos Foster from Rowley.
d Mehitable, b. 1764 Aug. 7, dau. of John and Hannah [Smith] Peabody. Her mother was dau. of Samuel and Rebecca [Curtice] Smith (see No. 82), and thus first cousin to Mr. Gould, and niece of the first wife of his brother Eliezer. They adopted her when three weeks old. She m. 1789 Nov. 24 Jonas Merriam (b. 1764; d. 1827 Feb. 23), brother of Dr. John, and had three children.
e Anna (Nancy) Mecum, b. 1771, dau. of Elizabeth [Robinson] (No. 279), Mr. Gould's niece. She m. 1798 Moses Gould (No. 169).

His negro woman Venus, m. 1757 Prince, the noted slave of Zaccheus Collins (See Lewis's History of Lynn, p. 344).

The instructions given him by the town of Topsfield, have been published by his descendant Mr. John H. Gould, town clerk, in Vol. xxii, of the Historical Collections of the Essex Institute. They were prepared by a committee, appointed by the citizens for the purpose, and bear the date 1776 June 14. They are entitled "Instructions for Mr. John Gould, representative of Topsfield, as a rule for conduct in the General Court respecting the United Colonies in America, being declared independent of the Kingdom of Great Britain." This soberly considered, and eminently patriotic, document closes with the following words:

"Having thus freely spoken our sentiments in respect to independence &c., we now instruct you, Sir, to give the Honorable Continental Congress the strongest assurances, that if, for the safety of these United Colonies, they shall declare America to be independent of the Kingdom of Great Britain, your constituents will support and defend the measure with lives and fortunes, to the utmost of their power."

Ezekiel and Sarah [Emery] Merrill, and widow, first of Samuel Poor, afterwards of Abner Rawson.

He was pursuing his studies at Dummer Academy in Byfield, at the time of the first hostilities in the struggle for American independence. Leaving all else, he marched to Lexington in Capt. Joseph Gould's company, 1775 April 19, and then enlisted in his country's service. He served in the army for nearly two years, with his brother Samuel, in a company of Guards under Maj. Gen. Lee.

Returning he entered Harvard College, where he graduated in 1782, and at once prepared himself for the ministry. He was settled first at Wolfboro', N.H., then at Bethel and Rumford, Me. At Bethel, where he was installed in 1799 and remained until 1815, he established a classical school, since known as Gould's Academy.

He was the author of the (unprinted) Family Narrative, which supplied many of the first clews for the preparation of this volume.

He was sergeant 1775 April, in Capt. John Baker's company, and Col. Moses Little's regiment; fought at Lexington and Bunker Hill; ensign and lieutenant in 1776; first lieutenant of Capt. Dodge's company of Hamilton, in 1777, and fought at Bennington. In detachment of 500 to Mt. Independence on Lake Champlain, commanded by Col. Johnson; in Capt. Flint's division at Stillwater, Oct. 7, taking command when Capt. Flint was killed; at surrender of Burgoyne, Saratoga, Oct. 7. Returning home, he filled various important positions there in 1778 and 1779.

In 1780, he went to reinforce the garrison at West Point, commanding a company in regiment of Col. Ward of Ipswich, and was captain of the main guard at the time of Arnold's escape and André's capture.

After his marriage he lived until 1805 in Lancaster, Mass., where his children were born; then returned to his native Topsfield; but in 1808 moved to Newburyport, where he resided for the remainder of his life, and died soon after completing his ninetieth year.

The stone which marks his grave bears the inscription, written by his daughter Hannah:

'His country's servant, in the fear of God
He sought her rights, not knowing other fear;
A soldier of the cross, he meekly trod
The path prescribed by Zion's leader here.'

In a published anniversary sermon, preached 1869 Dec. 26, by Rev. Loyal Young, D.D. (no. 1411), pastor of the church at French Creek, he says: —

"This neighborhood was principally settled by emigrants from New England, and mostly from Massachusetts. Persons in N.E. claiming lands in these parts, were earnest in sending out settlers. . . . . In 1808 Mr. Aaron Gould, senior, came from Charlemont, Mass. This was the first settlement made in this particular neighborhood; some of his sons, however, settled in the vicinity at the same time or the next year. His family consisted of a wife and eleven children, three of his sons being unmarried.

In the year 1811, Messrs. Robert Young and Gilbert Gould, with their families, came also from Charlemont.

The next year, the war broke out with England, lasting about three years. Some of the new settlers were called to the army, for the defence of the northern frontiers, Capt. Gilbert Gould, Daniel Gould, and Aaron Gould, jun. were of the number.

In the year 1816, several other families came from Massachusetts. Mr. Nathan Gould, jun. and family came from Charlemont, etc. . . . . With Mr. Nathan Gould, jun. came his aged father, Nathan Gould, who died two weeks after his arrival, aged 83 years. . . . . His posterity are numerous among us."

The tract in Charlemont, where were five houses, belonging to members of the family, is still known as "Gould Hollow."

They were very large and strong men, and ten of them could raise one side of a 40-foot barn.

He prepared for Harvard College at Dummer Academy in Byfield, and graduated in the class of 1814. But some months before the class graduated, he was by the recommendation of President Kirkland, appointed Principal of the Public Latin School of Boston, which had fallen to a low level. Regarding his service there, Johnston's Cyclopedia says:

> The school "soon assumed and long maintained the highest position of any institution in the country for thoroughness in classical teaching. He was the first American editor of any classical author; and, besides his improved and revised Latin Grammar, which was a novelty in America, and long remained a textbook, he prepared critical editions of Horace, Ovid and Virgil, which, although intended as text-books for the Boston Latin School only, found at once an extensive circulation throughout the country. He continued in charge of the Latin School until 1828, when his health compelled him to abandon prolonged literary occupations. He subsequently filled many important public positions in his native State."
> The last twenty-seven years of his life were passed in mercantile pursuits.

APPENDIX.

OTHER FAMILIES.

DURING the long studies and laborious inquiries required for properly investigating the descendants of Zaccheus Gould, much information was collected concerning other families of the name, especially those sprung from settlers in New England during the first century of its settlement.

It seems but right that the principal facts relative to the early generations of these families should be placed upon permanent record. Moreover the ready kindness with which many of their descendants have afforded me great assistance regarding both their lines and my own, makes it a debt of gratitude to furnish resultant information to an extent sufficient to aid future researches concerning the branches to which they belong.

Consequently a brief account of the early ancestors of several families bearing the name of Gould is here given in the form of an Appendix to the main work, although not with the fullness which would have been agreeable to the compiler and perhaps acceptable to his namesakes. It begins with Jeremy of Rhode Island, the elder brother, and Nathan of Salisbury, the nephew, of Zaccheus; and the accounts of these are followed by those of other settlers, in alphabetical order. The descendants are given to the fourth generation, so far as I have succeeded in tracing them.

FAMILIES.

I. JEREMY GOULD of Newport.
II. NATHAN GOULD of Salisbury.
III. ADAM GOULD of Chelmsford and Groton.
IV. EDWARD GOLD of Hingham.
V. FRANCIS GOOLE of Duxbury and Chelmsford.
VI. HENRY GOULD of Ipswich.
VII. JARVIS GOLD of Hingham and Boston.
VIII. JOHN GOULD of Stoneham.
IX. JOHN GOULD of New Jersey.
X. MAGER GOULD of Ipswich.
XI. NATHAN GOLD of Fairfield, Conn.
XII. PELATIAH GOULD of Saco.
XIII. RICHARD GOULD of Branford, Conn.
XIV. ROBERT GOOLD of Hull.
XV. THOMAS GOULD of Charlestown.
XVI. THOMAS GOULD of Salem Village.
XVII. THOMAS GOULD of Boston.
XVIII. WILLIAM GOULD of Pembroke.
XIX. WILLIAM GOULD of Milford, Conn.

I. JEREMY GOULD, OF NEWPORT.

This brother of Zaccheus is no. 61 in the enumeration of his lineage upon page 19 of this volume; and his children are given on page 20 (nos. 84 to 90).

No record of his first arrival in New England has come to light. There is ground for the belief that he was in Rhode Island as early as 1638, and it is so stated by Savage; yet the earliest mention of him, which I have found here, is in a mortgage recorded in Suffolk Deeds (I, 16), as follows:

"Jeremy Gould of Weymouth granted unto Joseph Hollway, of Sandwich, all that house and house-lot and meadow, which he lately purchased of said Joseph, as security for the payment of twenty pounds, upon the 24 day of June in the year of our Lord 164–. This was by indenture, dated the 1 Oct. 1639."

Less than four months later, 1639 Jan. 28, he was witness to the will of Henry Russell of Weymouth, as heretofore stated on page 26.

We also find in Suffolk Deeds (I, 18), that William Coddington of Newport of Aquidneck, appoints 1641 April 26, and again 1641 Aug. 23 and Sept. 17, his well-beloved friend Mr. Jere. Gould, to be his attorney in the Massachusetts.

In Suffolk Deeds (I, 54, 56), it is recorded that he sold a house and land in Weymouth to James Parker of Strawberry Bank, who conveyed the same to Zaccheus Gould 1644 Nov. 26, as already stated, page 30. The latter conveyed the property to Capt. William Perkins, by deed dated 1645 April 2.

It would appear, from family tradition, that he went back to England, and returned in 1642, bringing with him his wife and three sons, Daniel, aged 16, Thomas and John. He established himself in what is now Middletown, R.I., where some of his descendants still live. His wife Priscilla died there, and was buried on the farm. After this bereavement, he went again to England, where he died.

Mary[2] Gould, apparently the eldest child of Jeremy, married William Jeffrey about 1640, and died in 1675.

Jeffrey (b. about 1593) had lived for some time at Cape Ann. He applied for admission as freeman 1630 Oct. 19, and was admitted 1631 May 18. There are some indications that he belonged to Robert Gorges's party. Felt says that he was at Agawam (incorporated as Ipswich 1634 Aug. 16, new style) as early as 1628. His pedigree may be found in Essex Historical Collections XVII, 33. See also Savage's Geneal. Dict. II, 540. He died at Newport 1675 Jan. 2, his will being dated 1674 Dec. 8. Since there is no record of his wife's family being in Essex Co. previous to his marriage, it seems not improbable that the marriage was at Weymouth, and that Jeremy was then living there with a part of his family. The eldest child was born there.

Children:

Mary, b. 1642 March 20; m. John Green.
Thomas.
Sarah, m. James Barker.
Priscilla.
Susannah.

Daniel[2] Gould, born about 1625, died 1716 March 26, came to New England in 1642, with his mother and two brothers, as stated on page 19. He married 1651 Dec. 18, Wait (b.1636 Sept. 11, d.1718 July 9), dau. of John and Mary Coggeshall. In 1656 he embraced the doctrines of the Quakers. Coming from Salem to Boston in November, 1659, in company with Marmaduke Stevenson and William Robinson he was imprisoned, and whipped with thirty lashes. In 1700 they published a pamphlet on the subject. He was the ancestor of the Gould family of Rhode Island.

Children:

Mary[3], b. 1653 May 2; m. 1672 June 22 Joseph Bryer; d. 1690–1 Jan. 9.
Thomas[3], b. 1655 Feb. 20; m. 1690–1 Elizabeth Mott; d. 1734.

II. NATHAN GOULD, of Salisbury.

This nephew of Zaccheus, son of John of King's Langley and wife Judith, is given as no. 97, on p. 21. His father's will, made in 1633 mentions him sixth in order among the minor children; and his mother's will in 1650 speaks of him and his children, as being then in New England. He deposed in Amesbury 1682 Sept. 23 (Essex Registry of Deeds) that he was then 68 years old or thereabouts, and that he had come to this country and town [Salisbury] in September 1652. He settled in that part of the township which afterwards became Amesbury (Merrill's Hist. Amesbury, p. 58). Hence we have the date of his birth as 1614, and his age as 38 when he established himself in Salisbury. On Nov. 20, 1657, eight acres were granted him, and Nov. 29, a township.

No trace has appeared in the records of New England of his residence here before the latter date, nor of his brother Zaccheus who had died in New England early enough for the fact to be known to his mother before making her will 1650 May 8, and for administration of his estate (probably his mother's legacy) to be taken out by his sister Elizabeth in Sept. 12 of that year.

Nathan Gould became a citizen in Amesbury in 1657. In 1666 he was one of the 36 freemen of new Salisbury (see Merrill's Hist. Amesbury, p. 87), and took the oath of allegiance in 1677. His will is dated 1692 Dec. 12. (Essex Probate, III, 119).

He married Elizabeth ——, and though he had children living here in 1650, and a daughter is spoken of as living in 1659 (Hist. Amesbury, p. 62), I find only the five following, in the Salisbury records, or Essex probate. Their descendants became an extensive and highly respected family, of New Hampshire and Vermont.

Children:

Mary[2], b. 1661 June 24; m. —— Jones, probably son of Robert.
Elizabeth[2], b. 1664 Apr. 4.

Child by 2d wife, Mary:

Lydia, b. 1747 July 16; m. 1762 Aug. 24 Moses Hoyt.

III. ADAM GOULD, OF CHELMSFORD AND GROTON.

He was brother of Thomas of Salem Village, who was appointed administrator of his estate 1689 Dec. 17, the administration being assigned 1691 Dec. 14, after the death of the latter, to Joseph his eldest son. All efforts to discover who was their father, and indeed whether they were born in New England, have as yet proved unavailing. Adam was a soldier in King Philip's war, and is recorded as member of Capt. Joseph Gardner's Salem company, Mar. 1675–6 [Geneal. Reg. XXXIX, 177]. Heirs of Adam Gold, viz. John of Salem, Rebecca, wife of Ezekiel Marsh, and Dorcas Gold, sold land in Groton 1702 to Thomas Williams [Middlesex Deeds X, 72].

He married 1) at Salem 1677 Aug. 15 Rebecca Cooper; 2) at Woburn 1687 Sept. 28 Hannah (prob. b. 1654 Mar. 25), dau. of Joseph Knight of Woburn. Hannah died soon after birth of her child.

Children by 1st wife, Rebecca:

Rebecca[2], b. 1678 Aug. 25 at Salem; m. 1702 July 1 Ezekiel Marsh (b. 1676).
John[2], b. 1679–80 Jan. 31 at Salem; blacksmith in Salem 1702.
Dorcas[2], b. 1683 Sept. 8 at Groton; m. 1711 June 1 Anthony Buxton (b. 1682 Feb. 24), son of John.

Child by 2d wife, Hannah:

Thomas[2], b. 1690; must have died infant, since the name does not appear in the list of his father's children in Middlesex Deeds.

Of his son John[2] I find no further account, supported by absolute evidence; yet there are strong and almost convincing indications that it was he who subsequently lived at Woburn, and married Elizabeth, widow of Richard Snow, (probably Richard, b. 1683, son of Samuel). John died in 1722 "at Eastward in his country's service," and adminstration was granted 1722 Dec. 28 to his widow Elizabeth.

Children:

John[3], prob. b. 1711; m. Martha Furbush.
William[3], b. 1718 Dec. 5; m. 1745 Sarah Fisk.

John[3] Gould of Marlboro', b. about 1711, son of John and Elizabeth; m. Martha (b. 1714), dau. of John Furbush; will made 1781 Nov. 5; filed in Probate 1786 Apr. 13.

Children:

Anna, b. 1734 Apr. 16; m. 1753 Apr. 3 Thomas Whitney.
Martha, b. 1736–7 Jan. 25; m. Abiel Bush.
Rachel, m. Samuel Hardy.
Mary.
Betty.

William[8] Gould of Wilmington, b. 1718, son of John and Elizabeth; m. 1745 July 28 Sarah Fisk of Wilmington.

Children:

Esther, b. 1749 Apr. 22.

William, John,	b. 1752–3 Jan. 26;	m. 1784 Jan. 20 Rebecca Slack; d. 1828 Aug. 26.
David, Jonathan,	b. 1756 Nov. 9.
Benjamin, Susannah,	b. 1758 May 24;	m. 1782 Aug. 22 Mary Thompson. m. 1785 Mar. 15 Philip Johnson.

IV. EDWARD GOLD, OF HINGHAM AND BOSTON.

Came, aged 28, from Hawkhurst, Kent, in the Elizabeth from London, in 1635; and was not improbably brother of Jarvis who came in the same vessel.

He was a pail maker at Hingham and married Margaret ——, who d. 1682–3 Feb. 7. He was living in Boston 1657, where land was granted him July 28. Died 1684–5 February 16.

In Suffolk Deeds [I, 70] is recorded the mortgage in 1646 of his house and 26 acres of land in Hingham, and in 1663 [IV, 130, 131] a sale of five acres. No wife signs.

Children:

Hannah, b. 1643–4 March 12; bapt. 1660 May 31; m. 1673–4 Feb. 26 Samuel Hobart (b. 1645 Apr. 18; d. 1718 Apr. 25), son of Edmund and Elizabeth; d. at Hingham 1721–2 March 22. Seven children.

Abigail, bapt. 1658 Nov. 21; m. 1669 March 14 ———.

Sarah, b. 1648; bapt. 1658 Nov. 29; m. 1675 Nov. 29 Arthur Cain (d. 1687 Dec. 18); d. 1731–2 Feb. 11. Five children.

There were no sons.

V. FRANCIS GOOLE.

Was, with wife Rose, at Duxbury 1643, Braintree 1649 and Chelmsford 1661; and died at Chelmsford 1676 March 27. I have not discovered the time of his wife's death, but she signed a deed of land in Chelmsford 1673 March 28.

John Eddy, son of Samuel of Plymouth, blacksmith, was apprenticed 1645 Apr. 3, to Francis Gould.

Children:

Abigail[2], b. 1649–50 Feb. 18 at Braintree; m. Chelmsford 1665 Sept. 19 Thomas Corey.
Mary[2], b. 1651 Dec. 23 at Braintree; probably died young.
Martha[2], b. 1654 Oct. 15 at Braintree; m. 1672 Sept. 17 Joseph Barrett, son of Thomas and Margaret; d. 1698 May 15.
Hannah[2], b. 1655 July 18 at Braintree; m. 1676 Oct. 10 Daniel Galusha.
John[2], b. 1657 Apr. 26 at Braintree; d. 1660 Apr. 20.
Samuel[2], b. 1659 Feb. 6; m. 1684 Mehitable Barrett; d. 1747.
John[2], b. 1660 Aug. 21 at Chelmsford; m. 1686 July 2 Elizabeth Cummings; d. 1689 Apr. 16; dau. Elizabeth (b. 1687 May 8).
Leah[2], Rachel[2], } b. 1663 May 4 at Chelmsford; d. 1674 Dec. 22.
Elizabeth[2], b. 1664 Jan. 15 at Chelmsford.
Mary[2], b. 1666 Feb. 23 at Chelmsford; m. Chelmsford 1686 June 16 Noah Fisk.
Isaac[2], b. 1669 Mar. 3 at Chelmsford.
Thankful[2], b. 1671 Jan. 30 at Chelmsford.

Samuel[2] Goole of Dunstable, b. 1659; son of Francis and Rose; m. 1684 Mar. 17 Mehitable (b. 1665 Apr. 12; d. 1733 Oct. 3), dau. of Thomas Barrett of Braintree and Chelmsford; d. 1747 Oct. 27.

Children:

Margaret[3], b. 1687 May 26; m. 1709–10 Mar. 13 Joseph Chamberlain, jr., of Billerica and Concord.
Anna[3], b. 1689 Sept. 12.
Samuel[3], b. 1691 Nov. 10; d. 1704 May 6.
John[3], b. 1693 Jan. 24.
Jemima[3], b. 1696 June 30.
Moses[3], Isaac[3], } b. 1699 Mar. 6.

It would appear from various evidence that this Samuel of Dunstable had other children, especially two sons,

Samuel, b. 1694; d. 1775.
Joseph, b. about 1697.

also that Moses and Isaac did not survive to mature years.

On the supposition that this inference is correct, I add the family of Samuel[3]. He and his descendants wrote their name as Gould. No signature of Francis or his son appears to exist, but their surname appears on public records as Goole, except that it was written Goold in Dunstable 1688.

Samuel[3] Gould, b. 1694, probably son of Samuel and Mehitable [Barrett], lived at Nottingham West. He married Mary ——. His will, made 1769 Jan. 13, was proved 1775 Jan. 31.

Children:

Joseph, b. 1720 Aug. 19; m. 1746 June 19 Mary Piper of Concord; d. 1776.
Samuel, b. 1723 Jan. 1; m. 1750–1 Jan. 10 Elizabeth Marble; d. about 1769.
Mary, b. 1727 Jan. 24; unmarried 1769.
Mark, b. 1729 Mar. 17; } in list of soldiers to Cape Breton 1755.
Silas, b. 1733 Sept. 16; }

The descendants have been numerous in the neighborhood of Farmington and Wilton, Me., where they have occupied prominent positions.

VI. HENRY GOULD, OF IPSWICH.

There is a record of Henry Gould, admitted freeman 1641 [See Geneal. Register III, 188]. He was probably father of Henry[1] Gould of Ipswich, b. about 1640; d. 1730 Mar. 14; town commissioner in 1696–7; m. 1675 Sept. 20 Sarah, dau. of Abraham Ward. Her father Abraham appears to be the same whose surname is given by Savage (IV, 422) as Warr, and (IV, 423) as Warren. He died in 1654 and his widow Alice at her death, less than a year later, committed her stepdaughter Sarah and her estate to the care of John Baker and his wife Elizabeth. This John Baker was father of Sarah who m. 1660 Capt. John Gould, as shown on p. 37 of this volume; so that John and Henry must have been in near relation to each other.

Children of Henry and Sarah [Ward] Gould:

Sarah[2], b. 1675 Nov.
Elizabeth[2], b. 1677 Oct. 4; m. —— Murray.
Jane[2], b. 1679 Nov. 1; m. 1708 (publ. Mar. 12) Samuel Fraile, jr.
Joanna[2], b. 1681 Nov. 19.
Henry[2], b. 1686 Feb. 23; died in infancy.
Henry[2], b. 1688–9 March 14 or 25; m. 1712 Rebecca Cole; d. 1730.

Henry[2] Gould of Chebacco, b. 1688–9, son of Henry and Sarah; m. 1712 Apr. 19 Rebecca, dau. of —— and Rebecca [Phips] Cole. Mrs. Cole was sister of Gov. Sir William Phips. Henry Gould d. 1730 Aug. 7, and his widow m. 1731 Dec. 8 Thomas Andrews.

Children:

Elizabeth[3], b. 1712–3 Feb. 9; m. 1731 Nov. 25 William Homes (or Holmes); d. 1742.
Henry[3], b. 1714–5 Feb. 8; d. young.
Rebecca[3], b. 1716 May 2; m. 1734–5 Jan. 23 Joseph Emerson; d. 1781 Nov.
John[3], b. 1718 Apr. 15; d. 1730 Oct. 14.
Sarah[3], b. 1720 July 31; m. 1741 (publ. Nov. 7) Nehemiah Story of Boston.
Henry[3], b. 1722 Nov. 15; m. 1) 1748 Lydia Blaisdell; 2) 1755 Elizabeth Myrick; d. 1770.
William[3], b. 1724 July 29; m. 1) 1749 Lydia Smith; 2) 1753 Hephzibah Smith; d. 1778.
Mary[3], b. 1726 Apr. 30; m. Thomas Richardson of Boston (b. 1721).
Hannah[3], b. 1728 May 9; m. 1750 May 3 Jeremiah Clark (b. 1726 Mar. 26; d. 1798 May 31); d. 1807 Sept. 10.
John[3], b. 1731 Mar. 23; m. Abigail Kingsbury; d. 1764 Oct. 28, at Hampton.

Henry[3] Gould of Concord, Mass., saddler; b. 1722; son of Henry and Rebecca; m. 1) 1748 May 12 Lydia Blaisdell of Billerica; 2) 1755 Nov. 20 Elizabeth Myrick; d. 1770 Oct. 10.

Child by 1st wife, Lydia:

Lydia, b. 1751 Dec. 25; bapt. 1751–2 Jan. 12 Concord.

Children by 2d wife, Elizabeth:

Henry, b. 1757 Oct. 5; bapt. Oct. 9 Concord; m. Mary ——.
Edward, b. 1758 Oct. 14; bapt. Oct. 15 Concord; } died young.
Edward, b. 1760; bapt. Jan. 24 Concord; }
Mary, b. 1760 Jan. 17; bapt. Jan. 24; m. Dr. Silas Hodges.
John, b. 1761 June 6; m. ———.

William[3] Gould of Reading, b. 1724; son of Henry and Rebecca; m. 1) 1749 Lydia, dau. of Abraham and Eliza Smith; 2) 1753 Hephzibah, dau. of James and Abigail Smith; d. 1778 Sept. 5.

Child by 1st wife, Lydia:

William, b. 1750; d. young.

Children by 2d wife, Hephzibah:

William, b. 1754; m. Elizabeth ——.
Hephzibah, b. 1756 June; m. 1782 May 23 Samuel Foster of Boston; d. 1807, May 30.
John, b. 1758; m. 1785 Mary, dau. of Phineas Sweetser.
James, b. 1760; m. 1786 Rebecca, dau. of Dr. John Aborn of Lynnfield; d. 1830.
Nathaniel, b. 1763.
Samuel, b. 1767.

To this line belonged the late Frederic Gould of Boston, son of James[4], president of the Blackstone Bank.

VII. JARVIS GOLD, of Hingham and Boston.

Cordwainer, aged 30, came with Clement Bates in the Elizabeth, which sailed from London 1635 Apr. 6; being probably a brother to Edward of Hingham, who came in the the same vessel from Hawkhurst, Kent. His name is written Jervice Gold in the certificate of embarkation. His four joint administrators and executors bought 1656-7 Feb. 7 of Thomas Clarke of Boston, a piece of land for the use of John Gold, his son and heir, paying for it in personal estate. The son John was then ten years old, and it may be inferred that neither the younger son, Joseph, nor his mother Mary was then living. He married Mary ——.

Children:

John[2], b. 1646 July 28 at Hingham; bapt. Aug. 30; m. 1673 Mary Crossman d. 1711.
Joseph[2], b. 1649 Mar. 11 at Hingham; bapt. Mar. 25.

John[2] Gould, b. 1646; son of Jarvis and Mary; m. 1673 Aug. 21 Mary (b. 1655 July 16), dau. of Robert and Sarah [Kingsbury] Crossman of Taunton; d. 1711 Dec. 24. He was of Taunton, his identity being traced by this piece of real estate, and a facsimile of his signature is given in Emery's History of Taunton, p. 763.

Children:

Mary[3], b. 1674 June 19; drowned 1678 Aug. 2. [See Plymouth Colony Records, V, 273].
Hannah[3], b. 1677 Nov. 9; living unmarried at Bridgewater in 1715.
Mary[3], m. Ebenezer Bishop.
John[3], m. Lydia ——; d. 1731.

Mary, m. 1759 Nov. 8 Daniel Hanscom.

From him was descended the late William Goold, of Portland and Falmouth, Me., Secretary of the Maine Historical Society.

VIII. JOHN GOULD, OF STONEHAM.

John Gould, aged 25, and his wife Grace, also aged 25, came in the Defence from London in 1635. The record of their deposition to this effect is at Towcester in Northamptonshire; but this does not imply a residence there, inasmuch as it was not improbably a formality complied with there, on their way to London.

The old Norfolk Records show him to have been 47 years old in 1657, and 48 years old in 1658, indicating that the same person was referred to, and that he was born in 1610.

Wyman in his "Charlestown Genealogies and Estates," says that John Gould was a carpenter there; also, that his age was 66 in 1676, and again 73 in 1682. A double lot (no. 3) was assigned him in Charlestown 1636 July 1. He was admitted to the church 1638 Mar. 25, and freeman 1638 May 2. He died 1690–1 March 21 his will having been made 1688–9 Jan. 3 and proved 1691 June 19, and his name signed John Gold. His landed property and the deeds he gave are given in Wyman's remarkable and accurate book.

John Gould had by wife Mary, who d. 1642 Sept. 28, according to the Charlestown Records, and at Ten Hills Farm, by Winthrop's letter to his son, four children, the eldest of these being Mary, who was baptized 1636–7 Jan. 29. Her mother was admitted to the church three weeks previously, 1636–7 Jan. 8. It seems to me probable that the first wife Grace died in 1636, leaving perhaps son Thomas; and that it was her husband who married the Mary above mentioned, within a year after the death of Grace.

His 3d wife Joanna was born about 1608 and d. 1697 Aug. 27, aged about 89. An account which has been published more than once, stating that she reached the age of 100 years, was purely an exaggeration.

The very numerous descendants of John and Joanna have extended the name widely through the Northern States, and have occupied positions of distinction in the community.

Mr. Wyman thought that Thomas was the eldest child, founding this opinion chiefly upon the order of precedence in his father's will. If so, it seems to me clear that he was son of Grace; else he must have been son of Joanna, and born probably in 1650 or 1651.

John[1] Gould, b.1610; m. 1) Grace —— (b.1610; d.1635 or 1636); 2) Mary —— (d. 1642 Sept. 28); 3) Joanna —— (b. about 1608; d. 1697 Aug. 27); d. 1690–1 Mar. 21.

Children:

Thomas[2], m. Hannah —— ; d. before his father.
Mary[2], bapt. 1636–7 Jan. 29.

Sarah[2], bapt. 1637 Dec. 15; m. 1660 Apr. 2 John Burbeen of Woburn; d. 1670 May 14.
Elizabeth[2], bapt. 1639–40 Feb. 17.
Abigail[2], bapt. 1641–2 Feb. 26; m. 1) 1669 Apr. 1 William Rogers; 2) 1688–9 Feb. 7 John Rogers.
Hannah[2], b. 1644 Oct. 26.
John[2], b. 1646–7 Jan. 21; d. 1647 March 8.
John[2], b. 1648 Aug. 5; m. 1) Abigail Belcher; 2) Martha Redington; d. 1712.
Daniel[2], b. 1655; m. Dorcas Belcher; d. 1697.

Thomas[2] Gould, son of John and Grace; admitted to church 1652 Mar. 21 at same time with wife Hannah. He seems to have died before his father made his will, 1688–9, for the latter bequeathed land to his "grandson Thomas, son of Thomas," which was to pass to his uncle John in case of his death.

Children:

Thomas[3], guardianship to his uncle Daniel in 1696. His sister Anna was executrix of his estate in 1709–10. Was mariner on his Majesty's ship Eagle. [See under Rev. Thomas Gould.]

From Joseph[4] was descended the late William Gould, of Albany.

X. MAGER GOULD, OF IPSWICH.

I have not yet succeeded in discovering the parentage of this head of a large family. There is a tradition among his descendants that his father's name was John, and that he lived in the Chebacco district, now the town of Essex.

The earliest documentary mention of him which has come to light is the record of publication, 1723 June 23, of his intention of marriage. There is also a record of his baptism, 1724 July 19. He was a fisherman, and his son Mager was appointed in 1783 administrator of his estate.

He married Elizabeth Treadwell, who was born 1699 July 16 and died 1779 Nov. 6.

Children:

John[2], bapt. 1724 Aug. 30.

XIV. ROBERT GOOLD, OF HULL.

He came about 1665 from England, having been sent for by his cousin Joan, widow of John Stone, who had died in 1664 childless, and leaving her most of his property. She d. 1674, leaving to him the homestead. He m. 1) about 1666 Elizabeth (bapt. 1638), dau. of Benjamin Bosworth of Hull; 2) about 1687 Judith (d. at Hull 1704 May 7), dau. of William Hersey, and widow of Capt. Jonathan Pool of Reading; 3) about 1706 Sarah (d. 1749 Sept. 29), dau. of Rev. Zechariah Whitman, and widow of Nicholas Cook.

The second wife Judith signed in 1697 as wife of Robert Goold, a document in which she is spoken of as widow of Capt. Jonathan Pool; and Robert Goold makes over a piece of land to his "son-in-law Jonathan Pool, jun." — clearly his stepson. But since Humphrey Wilson married 1663 Dec., Judith, dau. of William Hersey of Hingham; and since according to Savage, Capt. Jonathan Pool's eldest child was b. in 1656, I infer that she was Pool's second wife, and he her second husband.

Robert Goold's death must have occurred in 1718.

Children by 1st wife, Elizabeth:

Robert[2], b. about 1667; m. about 1690 Jane [Harris] Smith.

XV. THOMAS GOULD, OF CHARLESTOWN.

This noted man appears in our history first at Noddle's Island (now East Boston), in 1640. He was a wheelwright, and was, with wife Hannah, admitted to the church 1640 June 7. He was of Charlestown in 1641, possessing there four cow-commons, according to Wyman. Hannah died 1647 May 15 at Ten Hills Farm, leaving three children. He married again Mary, widow of —— Hayward (or Howard), who left two children, in addition to three by her first marriage. A codicil to his will was dated 1674 April 25 and proved five days later, April 30.

He was selectman in 1652. Later he became a zealous Baptist, and 1665 May 28 was established as minister of the first Baptist church of Boston. Accounts of his controversies and difficulties with the authorities are abundant. He was excommunicated 1665 July 30, summoned before Gen. Court Oct. 11, disfranchised, fined, and, refusing to pay or to desist from holding meetings, was imprisoned. Subsequently he was liberated, although left without remission of sentence. In 1668 he was summoned to a public hearing held 1668 Apr. 14, and, failing to recant, was expelled from the colony and ordered to be imprisoned anew, if not gone by July 20. A letter, dated in prison, from Thomas Gould, John Farnham and William Turner, states that they were then in the twelfth week of their imprisonment. In the summer of 1669 he was liberated, and his society met at Noddle's Island.

In his will he mentioned his widow Mary (executrix), his daughter Hannah (not then married), his son Samuel (under age), daughters Mary Skinner and Mehitable Gooding, son Nathaniel Hayward and his two children, daughter Abiel Shapley and two children, daughter Mary Bunker and two children. Also his grandchildren Mary Skinner and Thomas Gooding. No mention is made of his daughter Elizabeth, who was probably not then living. A deposition by her, made in 1671, states that she was then 17 years old, and mentions her uncle John Harris.

This is explained by the fact that his step-children were Mary Hayward or Howard, who m. 1) 1662-3 Jan. 30 Jonathan Bunker who d. 1678 June 2; Nathaniel Hayward who became connected with the Baptists in 1669, having m. 1) 1666 July 2 Sarah, daughter of Capt. Simon Willard; and Abiel Hayward who m. 1665 June 8 Joseph Shapley.

Some account of Rev. Thomas Gould "and his son-in-law Thomas Osborne," is given by Rev. Geo. M. Bodge in his account of Capt. Wm. Turner and his men, soldiers in King Philip's war (Geneal. Register xli, p. 70). But Thomas Osborne was not his son-in-law, although his associate and a fervid Baptist.

We thus have the family as follows:

Thomas[1] Gould, m. 1) Hannah [? Miller] (d. 1647 May 15); 2) Mary widow of —— Hayward.

Children by 1st wife, Hannah:

Hannah[2], bapt. 1641 Apr. 11; m. 1675 June 10 Thomas Eliot, carpenter, of Boston. Had dau. Mary b. 1686.

Mary[2], m. 1669 Dec. 22 Thomas Skinner, baker, of Boston, who m. a 2d wife Elizabeth before 1677.

Mehitable[2], m. James Gooding of Boston and Lynn. Had son Thomas.

Children by 2d wife, Mary:

Elizabeth[2], b. 1654; had uncle John Harris.

Samuel[2], under age in 1674; butcher in Boston 1676.

No descendants of Samuel are to be found, nor any record of his marriage, so that it seems probable that he died unmarried. The latest notice of him is a sale of land in 1676 to his brother-in-law James Gooding.

Hence Rev. Thomas appears to have had no descendants of the name in the third generation.

In a power of attorney, given 1708 Sept. 7 by Anna Whinyard, sister of Thomas Gould, late of parish of St. Mary Axe, London, and of his majesty's ship Eagle, mariner, she constitutes "our loving cousin James Gooding of Norton's Island, near Boston in N.E., to be attorney to collect rents in Charlestown, late in possession of her uncle John Gould." See Middlesex Deeds, xv, 167. This Anna, and her deceased brother Thomas, were grandchildren of the first John Gould of Stoneham, being children of his son Thomas, who apparently died about 1696. Their uncle John (the same who m. Martha Redington) died at Reading 1711–12 Jan. 24. But the "loving cousin James Gooding" was son-in-law of the Rev. Thomas Gould, and does not otherwise appear as related in any way to the family of John of Stoneham.

It was this circumstance that furnished one of the grounds for my belief, mentioned on p. 25, that kinship existed between John Gould of Stoneham and the Rev. Thomas of Charlestown.

XVI. THOMAS GOULD, of Salem Village.

He was born about 1639, and was brother of Adam, of Chelmsford and Groton, being appointed 1689 administrator of his estate. But he himself died soon after, for his wife Elizabeth —— was appointed administratrix of his estate 1690 June 24, the charge of the estate of Adam being assigned 1690–91 March 5 to the nephew Joseph, eldest son of Thomas and Elizabeth.

XVII. THOMAS GOULD, of Boston.

The data available for the history and family of the early settler of this name are peculiarly incomplete. My endeavors to compile a genealogy have resulted in the belief that there were two distinct families of the name in Boston, apart from that of the Rev. Thomas of Charlestown and of Thomas, eldest son of John of Stoneham; but whether related or not, I cannot say.

The following schedule, which is the result of an exceptional amount of study, and yet not capable of full demonstration, seems to be almost the only one not subject to fatal objection.

Thomas Gould, aged 32, came 1639 in the Jonathan, with his wife Mary. His son Jacob, of whom nothing further is known, was born in Cambridge 1643 Sept. 16. It appears to have been this Thomas, who died in Boston 1662 Oct. 26.

Thomas[2] Gold of Boston, founder, in his will, 1706–7 March 1, proved 1707 July 28, mentions wife Frances, and children William and Ann (wife of Nathaniel Green). These children are also named by his widow Frances Goold in her will 1708–9 Feb. 8, proved 1711 July 16.

Children:

William[3], founder; m. 1699 Mercy Harris.
Ann[3], b. about 1685; m. 1703 Nathaniel Green.
Thomas[3], b. 1687 July 4; d. before his parents.

William[3] Gold, founder, son of Thomas and Frances; m. 1699 Apr. 16 Mercy (b. ? 1681; d. 1747), dau. of Richard Harris.

Children:

Sarah, b. 1700 Feb. 25.
Thomas, b. 1701 Jan. 30.

Ann[3], b. about 1685; dau. of Thomas and Frances Gold; m. 1703 Feb. 27 Nathaniel Green (b. 1679 Apr. 10; d. 1717 June 5), son of Thomas and Elizabeth [Barton]; d. 1728.

Children:

Thomas, b. 1705.
Rufus, b. 1707.
Nathaniel, b. 1709.
William, b. 1711.
Benjamin, b. 1713.

Thomas Goold, perhaps son of William and Mercy [Harris]; m. 1736 Dec. 16 Hannah Woods in Roxbury. A son Thomas was born 1737 Oct. 30.

Thomas[1] Gould, m. in Boston 1656 Sept. 10 Frances Robinson. It was probably he, who witnessed the mortgage 1669 Nov. 9 recorded with Suffolk Deeds, VI, 140, from John Winthrop of Hartford to Samuel Shrimpton of Boston, Executor.

Children:

Ann[2], b. 1657-8 Feb. 5.
Thomas[2], b. 1659 Nov. 27; m. 1686? Experience Sumner; d. 1707-8.
Bartholomew[2], b. 1661 Oct. 27.

Thomas[2] Gold of Boston, a cooper, perhaps son of Thomas and Frances [Robinson]; m. about 1686 Experience (b. 1664 Sept. 22), dau. of William Sumner; d. 1707-8.

Children:

Thomas[3], b. 1687 June 19; died young.
Thomas[3], b. 1688 Jan. 29.
Elizabeth[3], b. 1694 Feb. 14.
Bartholomew[3], b. 1696 Apr. 4; died young.
Bartholomew[3], b. 1698 May 24; soldier 1738 (Gen. Reg. XVI. 182).
Hannah[3], b. 1700 Nov. 13.

Thomas Gold, m. in Roxbury 1716 Dec. 28 Rebecca Lyon in Roxbury; perhaps son of Thomas and Experience.

Children:

Joseph, b. 1717 Nov. 22.
Hannah, b. 1719 Feb. 9.

We also find that Thomas Gold m. 1717 March 28 Mary Mason of Milton. This may have been a second marriage.
